Four States Go To Polls In Primary

West Virginia, Kansas,
Missouri, Michigan
Decide Nominations

By The Associated Press

Two possibilities for the 1960 Democratic presidential race are expected to clear their local political hurdles in good style today as four states hold primary elections.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri are strong favorites to gain renomination in primaries in their states. Williams, the onetime boy wonder of Michigan politics, is seeking an unprecedented sixth term.

W. Va., Kansas Vote

Other primaries are being held in West Virginia and Kansas. In all, voters in the four states will name candidates for 4 Senate seats, 41 House spots and 2 governorships.

Williams, who has done little campaigning, is opposed by William L. Johnson, a radio station operator at Ironwood. Another term at the statehouse would put Williams in a good position to bid for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960 if he chooses.

Symington, former secretary of the Air Force, has nominal opposition from former Republican Lamar W. Dye of Kansas City and Lawrence L. Hastings of Aurora, a retired Veterans Administration employee. Symington, a darkhorse at the 1956 Democratic convention, is again being mentioned as a possible nominee in 1960.

Four Opponents

Missouri Republicans will pick their candidate to oppose Symington from a group of four. Eleven House seats are up for nomination in the state.

Republican Sen. Charles E. Potter has no opposition in his primary race in Michigan. Williams' running mate, Lt. Gov. Philip Hart, is opposed by Homer Martin, a former United Auto Workers president, in the Democratic senatorial primary. Eighteen House seats are up for nomination.

The fight for two senatorial berths highlights West Virginia's elections. The GOP incumbents, Chapman Revercomb and John D. Hoblitzell, have no opposition.

In Tight Struggle

But four Democrats have been locked in a tight struggle to win their party's nomination to run against Hoblitzell, who has been filling in for part of the term of the late Democratic Sen. Matthew Neely. The term has two more years.

Rep. Robert C. Byrd heads a list of three Democratic candidates for the right to oppose Revercomb for the six-year term. West Virginia also has to make nominations for six House seats.

In Kansas, Democratic Gov. George Docking is opposed for renomination, but five Republicans are seeking the GOP nod to run in November. They include former Gov. Fred Hall, who was denied renomination in 1956, and Clyde Reed Jr., Parsons publisher who has strong organization backing. Kansas will nominate for six House positions.

Court Did Not Accuse Mack

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals, in a ruling July 31, did not say that various persons interested in a television license in Boston had talked with Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack while the case was under FCC consideration.

Judge John A. Danaher, author of the court order, did not mention Mack as having figured in such talks. Mack resigned under fire during a House investigation of an FCC case in Miami.

An Associated Press story July 31 said Danaher listed Forester Clark of Massachusetts Bay Television; Robert Choate, publisher of the Boston Herald and Traveler; and representatives of the Boston Globe as having talked with Mack. This was in error.

In fact, Danaher named George C. McConaughy as the commissioner with whom they talked, as shown in the House investigation.

Dulles Gets Warm Greeting In Brazil; Talks Underway

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles began talks with Brazilian leaders today after a handful of students marred his warm welcome briefly with jeers and a "Go Home" banner.

Dulles' program for the first full day of his 60-hour visit included talks with Foreign Secretary Francisco Negro de Lima and then a meeting with President Juscelino Kubitschek.

Dulles said on arrival Monday he would talk about the world situation, inter-American relations with special attention to economic problems and U.S.-Brazilian relations.

The Brazilians were most interested in what Dulles would

Three Bodies Found In Car

SUDBURY, Ont. (AP)—A car containing three bodies was pulled Monday night from the French River. Police believed it had plunged into the river two years ago from a bridge then under construction.

Neither the identities nor the sex of the three bodies could be established immediately. The car was found by a skin diver exploring the river bottom.

Legless Man Resumes Job As Sign Man

CHICAGO (AP)—A legless man who spent 15 years on his stomach in a hospital after an automobile accident has driven 18,000 miles since his discharge a year ago seeking to rebuild his former business.

Cornelius (Bud) Koster, who operated an electrical sign business before his spine was crushed in the accident in 1942, has put this mileage on his specially rigged car driving in the suburban Bellwood area in search of new business.

A year ago Koster, 39, was released from the Cook County Hospital after his marriage to Mrs. Josephine Masterson, 41.

Mrs. Koster rides with him at night after she gets home from her job as a telephone company supervisor. She writes down the names of businesses where they see faulty neon signs. The next day Bud drops the firms a card calling attention to the trouble and offering his services as a legless man.

Bud gets around in a wheelchair and negotiates the stairs in an elevator which he adapted from a builder's brick-hauling elevator.

The Soviet Union has been seeking recently to renew diplomatic and commercial ties with Brazil and has stepped up its economic campaigns in neighboring countries. Brazil broke diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union in 1947 after a number of Soviet verbal attacks on her, and the government has reported a number of Communist subversive plots in recent years.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—One thousand more U.S. troops arrived in Lebanon today. An American military spokesman said this completed the movement of troops assigned here.

There are now more than 14,000 U.S. soldiers and Marines here. The troops debarking from the transport, Gen. Geiger, included a hospital unit, signals and signals photos units and a graves registration team.

Withdrawal Top Aim

Gen. Fuad Shehab, Lebanon's army chief who was elected president of the nation last week as a compromise in a three-month rebellion, declared Monday withdrawal of U. S. troops was foremost among the national aims.

But President Camille Chamoun indicated his determination to keep the troops here until his term ends Sept. 23.

In his first pronouncement since he was elected last Thursday, Shehab indicated he intends to follow a policy of neutrality toward the big powers, friendship with Arab neighbors and unity and stability in Lebanon.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman said American troops will leave when asked to do so by the duly constituted government.

Won't Ask To Leave

Chamoun, the pro-Western President who asked Washington to send the troops three weeks ago, said, "I won't ask the Marines to leave." He has rejected rebel demands that he step aside early for Shehab.

Chamoun also said he would represent Lebanon at any summit conference to which Middle Eastern leaders are invited.

Leaders of the three-month-old rebellion against Chamoun say the now smoldering strife will flame anew if he tries to represent Lebanon at the summit or name one of his men as his delegate. The rebels—who also demand immediate withdrawal of U. S. troops—say Shehab should speak for Lebanon at any summit conference held before he becomes president.

Chamoun spoke to newsmen just before meeting with Robert D. Murphy, President Eisenhower's troubleshooter. The rebels have been pleased that Murphy used his influence last week to have the presidential election held. Chamoun's supporters have been happy with the recent arrival of more U.S. troops here.

Youth Snatches Purse But Fails To Get $26,000

WILMINGTON, Calif. (AP)—A teen-ager snatched a woman's purse and fled Monday. In the purse was $26,000.

But, said police, the youth removed a wallet, then dropped the purse. The money wasn't in the wallet—it was stuffed in several envelopes.

Anastasia Krouses, 38, a Greek national living in Long Beach, told officers she had been carrying the money for more than a year.

"In Greece, everybody carries money with them," she said. Police said the cash included fourteen $1,000 bills.

Revenge-Bent Uncle Of 'Torch' Vanishes

Probers Hit Hoffa's Link With Thugs

Teamster President
Refuses To Comment
On Torture-Burning

WASHINGTON (AP)—Teamsters President James R. Hoffa was challenged by Senate investigators today to explain his alleged association with gangsters.

Hoffa, just sworn to tell the truth, sat poker faced, occasionally mopping his hands and lips with a handkerchief, as Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) of the Rackets Investigating Committee addressed him.

McClellan, reading from a prepared statement, said the committee's record is replete with testimony linking Hoffa's name with the underworld. He said Hoffa will be questioned extensively—possibly over a period of weeks on and off—about this.

Asked by reporters whether he cared to discuss the torture-burning in Michigan of one of his aides, Frank Kierdorf, Hoffa replied:

"I have no comment whatsoever about anything."

He was accompanied by Edward Bennett Williams, general counsel of the union; George S. Fitzgerald, a Detroit lawyer; and David Previant, Milwaukee attorney.

McClellan, in his statement at the opening of the hearing, said Hoffa on his last appearance before the committee in August 1957 "suffered seriously from a lack of memory and thus avoided answering many questions."

"It is to be hoped," McClellan said with heavy sarcasm, "his memory has improved."

McClellan said an alliance between Hoffa and the underworld, if it exists, "places a dangerous force at the jugular vein of America's economic life."

Goldfine Case Probe Group Under Attack

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Thomas B. Curtis (R-Mo.) demanded today House influence investigators prove they have "clean hands" before the House votes on their request for a contempt citation against millionaire Bernard Goldfine.

Charging anew the subcommittee's conduct "has become a public scandal," Curtis said the House should get a full explanation from the group which investigated Goldfine, gift-giving friend of Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams.

The congressman, a frequent critic of the subcommittee headed by Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.), listed a number of charges against the panel in a statement published in today's Congressional Record.

"These matters, unanswered, badly damage the reputation of Congress," he said. "This subcommittee should make a formal report on these and other matters before the House should consider the request for a contempt citation."

The matter is expected to come up on the House floor later this week. The House is expected to approve the contempt citation and send it to the Justice Department for prosecution.

Lunar Satellite Attempt Could Come Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy W. Johnson, boss of the nation's moon rocket program, indicated today that the first attempt to put up a lunar satellite could come as early as next week.

Johnson told a reporter that the Defense Department hopes to decide this week on the date.

The director of the department's Advanced Research Projects Agency added that the date would be decided upon about five days in advance of the actual launching attempt.

This would conform closely with estimates of persons close to the lunar probe program that the earliest launching date under consideration was Aug. 15, and that the most likely dates would be Aug. 17-19.

U. S. Antitrust Unit Studies Hike In Steel

Congress Advised
Possible Action Due
As Hearings Begin

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department told Congress today it is giving extremely close scrutiny to recent steel price increases with a view to possible antitrust action.

Victor R. Hansen, chief of the department's antitrust division, testified at the start of Senate hearings on increases announced last week averaging about $4.50 a ton, or 3 per cent.

He said the department is concerned not only because of possible injurious effects on the economy but also because certain laws may have been violated.

The chronology of events leading up to the latest price boost, Hansen said, is getting close scrutiny for a number of reasons.

"In the first place," he told the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, "it clearly shows that the steel companies 'march up the hill together' in raising prices."

"Secondly, the smaller companies look to U.S. Steel, if not to lead the parade, certainly to join it. If U.S. Steel doesn't join in the raising of prices, the smaller companies would have to back down."

Infant Run Over By Father's Car

HEDGESVILLE, W. Va. (AP)—Ross Emory Carter, 21-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett L. Carter of Hedgesville RFD 2, was fatally injured yesterday when run over by his father's car.

State Police said the father was backing the car out of the driveway of the home and apparently did not see the youngster. The boy died about two hours later.

Hips Too Big, Break Foiled

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Jeanne Brown, a 35-22-36 cocktail waitress in jail on a drunkenness charge, tried to leave her cell by way of the small opening, through which food is passed, to prisoners.

The 22-year-old, squeezed her 35 through. The 22 was a cinch. But at the 36, her escape attempt came to an end.

Hacksaws freed her for another cell.

Golfer Finds Nearly Nude Dead Woman

BALTIMORE (AP)—A golfer out for an early round today found the beaten, nearly nude body of a middle-aged woman near Clifton Park's ninth green.

Police identified her as Mrs. Mrs. Ethel Francis, a gray-haired grandmother who lived nearby, and said she had apparently been strangled and raped.

Most of her clothing had been torn away. Some garments were found up to 200 yards from her body.

Investigators said the body was found by Edwin J. Swann Jr., who had played a few holes of golf shortly after daybreak. Heading back to the clubhouse he spotted the woman in the rough under a tree.

Among articles found nearby was a straw handbag which had been set aside in an apparent attempt to delay identification of the victim. From scorched letters in the handbag, police traced the woman's address.

A neighbor who identified the body said Mrs. Francis had been living in an apartment with her 34-year-old daughter, Mrs. Orme-gene Mason, and a granddaughter, Donna Mason, 15.

The neighbor said Mrs. Mason was visiting her husband in Pennsylvania.

Motion Picture Pioneer Warner Hurt In Accident

CANNES, France (AP)—Jack L. Warner, pioneer American film tycoon, was seriously injured early today in a collision as he drove his sport car home from an all-night session at the Palm Beach Casino in Cannes.

Warner, 66, was taken to a hospital in Cannes with head injuries. The hospital reported he was in a coma.

Warner's auto in which he was driving alone, and a coal truck collided almost in front of the seaside villa of Prince Aly Khan. The sport car was badly damaged.

The accident occurred about five miles from Warner's home.

Shotgun Tragedy

STURGIS, Ky. (AP)—Clayburn Brooks recently heard noises near his home at night and loaded a shotgun for protection. He left the house in a corner of his bedroom.

His two sons, Truman, 7, and Vernon, 11, found the gun. Vernon picked it up and pulled the trigger. One blast killed Truman.

Victim Lies Near Death In Hospital

Teamster Official
Sought On Warrant
For Gun Possession

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP)—New mystery piled up today in the human-torch burning of an ex-convict business agent for the Teamsters Union. His ex-convict uncle, who swore revenge, has disappeared.

Herman Kierdorf, 63, was missing and sought on a warrant charging him with possessing a silencer for a pistol.

Herman had both sworn revenge for his nephew's burning and reported receiving a telephone threat of: "You'll be next."

Nephew Near Death

Herman's nephew, Frank Kierdorf, 56, lay near death at a Pontiac hospital, his body burned nearly from head to foot.

Frank told authorities two gunmen he didn't know made a human torch of him Monday and he was positive the torture-burning was in some way connected with union business. Frank was tossed from a car to the hospital grounds.

Herman disappeared Monday night after persuading Frank to gasp out his pain-racked story.

County Prosecutor Frederick Ziem said a briefcase Herman Kierdorf left at a neighbor's home contained a German pistol with a home-made silencer.

Find Second Weapon

Two "phonies" and "another weapon also were found in a sack left at the neighbor's by Herman, Ziem said. He said that Herman "wouldn't tell us anything."

Earlier, the uncle was quoted as saying: "I don't have any idea who did it, but I'm going to find out."

Police said he was last seen as he left St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Monday afternoon.

Alerts were sent to neighboring police departments.

Both nephew and uncle have been reluctant witnesses before the Senate Rackets Committee in its probe of the Teamsters Union.

Lured From Home

Frank Kierdorf said he was lured from his home and driven to a lonely woods where his sadistic captors poured an inflammable liquid on him and lit a match to him.

Kierdorf said the two men came to his house in nearby Flint late Sunday night and asked him to go with them on union organizing business, pulled a gun on him and took him in their car to the woods. They later dumped him on the grounds of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Mexico Rail Accord Set

MEXICO CITY (AP)—An informal agreement was reached early today to end a strike of Mexico's nationalized railroads that threatened to snowball into a Red-agitated general strike.

The agreement was made by Roberto Amoros, general manager of the railways; and Demetrio Vallejo, a dissident railway labor leader who called the wildcat strike Saturday night.

The Mexico Labor Department was expected to make the agreement formal. Vallejo said once this is done, rail service should get back to normal quickly.

Vallejo called out more than 100,000 rail workers to protest the arrest of union members trying to take control of the union.

Bennett also noted 2,306 prisoners broke out of jail last year. Of this number 2,210 escaped from state prisons.

The number of recaptured prisoners—though not necessarily those who escaped during 1957—totalled 2,222, among which 83 were fugitives from federal prisons and 2,139 from state institutions.

It means there were 116 prisoners for every 100,000 persons in the country as a whole.

In addition, the prison report showed there were 43,357 paroles granted last year, 39,535 from state prisons. Conditional and unconditional releases totalled 85,356 of which 71,327 were from state jails.

The growing prison population, 5,849 inmates or 3.1 per cent over 1956, was due partly to an increase in commitments to state institutions, Bennett said.

County Has Seven Years To Desegregate Schools, Judge In Virginia Rules

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A Federal judge's decision allowing Prince Edward County seven more years to desegregate its schools left state officials jubilant today and Negro attorneys pondering the wisdom of an appeal.

Top legal counsel for Virginia in its program of "massive resistance" to school integration applied the adjectives "realistic" and "understanding" to the ruling by U.S. District Judge Sterling Hutcheson.

Lawyers for Negro children seeking admission to Prince Edward's white schools, who had asked desegregation this fall, glumly conceded a victory to the state. But beyond admitting that an appeal would be considered, they declined to say what moves they planned.

The probability of school closure remains, however, in Arlington County and the cities of Norfolk and Charlottesville. All are under Federal court orders to desegregate in September. Under Virginia law, any school that is integrated is immediately closed.

Judge Hutcheson set September 1965, as the date by which Prince Edward — whose population is nearly half negro — must begin desegregation. He called this "carefully considered delay," judging by the experience of other localities, the judge said, "violence may be within the realm of probability if precipitate action is taken."

Fringe Benefits Become Major 'Income' Items

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Chamber of Commerce says wages are no longer an accurate measure of a worker's income nor of an employer's cost of doing business. The reason: "fringe" benefits have become major items in the worker's receipt from his boss.

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, director of economic research for the chamber, said a survey showed average fringe benefits totaled $981 in 1957 compared to $162 in 1955. He said the survey included 1,020 firms and was the "most complete of its kind."

Nearly $350,000,000 was spent for foreign cars in the United States during 1957, almost double the 1956 figure.

Stock Market Margin Boost Lauded, Hit

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 40 per cent rise in stock market margins effective today may bring nothing more than a bit of psychological selling, followed by a new attempt to scale the record highs of 1956, Wall Street experts said today.

But the action, by the Federal Reserve Board, drew criticism from the presidents of the nation's two biggest stock exchanges.

Several leading congressmen and many economists, however, hailed the move as a step against inflation.

Market men said the margin rise from 50 per cent to 70 per cent came as no surprise to the financial district. It would not dislodge any big holdings of stock, the experts held, since most of these are covered by cash.

The new margins apply to new purchases and short sales. They have no impact on old accounts until new purchases are made and then only to a limited degree, it was explained.

The senator quoted from the committee's report to the Senate alleging that Hoffa "has aligned himself with certain underworld characters who are part and parcel of the criminal elements and most sinister forces of this country."

He said Hoffa had pledged himself last year to houseclean corruption from the union, and the committee will expect a truthful accounting from Hoffa on what he has done along this line.

Among other things, Hoffa faced questioning about why he let his union keep Kierdorf as a paid official after Kierdorf last November invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer committee questions.

Butler Asks Convention Date In July

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler favors an early date for the 1960 convention because the Democrats "likely will consider a new face" as their presidential candidate.

Butler told a news conference Monday he prefers a date in July for the nominating convention.

Butler was asked if his "new face" comment ruled out two-time loser Adlai Stevenson as a potential candidate. He firmly replied: "No."

U. N. Sources Await Soviet Summit Reply

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. delegates are continuing private discussion of arrangements for a Security Council summit meeting while awaiting word whether Soviet Premier Khrushchev will attend.

In the absence of word from the Soviets, there has been no scheduling of a preliminary meeting of the Council to set a time and place for the government chiefs to gather.

There was speculation in Moscow and at U.N. headquarters that Khrushchev's acceptance or rejection of the Western invitation to a Council meeting might be made public at the U.N., not in the Soviet capital.

Diplomats leaning to this view pointed out that President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan in their last letters to the Soviet chief had not requested an answer specifically but had said they were going ahead to arrange a summit Security Council meeting to start around Aug. 12.

These sources felt it would be logical for the Soviet U.N. delegate, Arkady Sobolev, to communicate the Soviet position to the Council.

Britain's U.N. delegate, Sir Preston Dixon, told newsmen the private talks among delegates might continue all week. It was apparent that no summit meeting could be arranged by Aug. 12. Aug. 18 appeared a more likely date.

Self-Defense Plea Set In Teel Slaying Trial

INDIANAPOLIS, IND. (UPI)—A father-son team of criminal lawyers agreed Monday night to defend a divorcee charged with slaying her married lover.

The first action of the attorneys, Charles and Frank Symmes, was to slap a "no visitors" ban on Mrs. Connie Nicholas, 42, who is recovering in General Hospital from an overdose of sleeping pills.

Frank Symmes, the father, said he decided to undertake the defense of the attractive divorcee, who admitted shooting drug firm executive Forrest Teel, because he believed she had "a good case."

Mrs. Nicholas contended she shot and killed Teel, 54, wealthy executive vice president of Eli Lilly and Co., during a violent argument last Thursday morning over his alleged affair with a younger woman.

"It looks like a case of self-defense," Symmes said. "Her eye is swollen shut. Somebody slugged her."

Charles Symmes said he believed Mrs. Nicholas probably will be able to attend a preliminary hearing on the slaying charge Thursday. He said he probably would enter a plea of self defense.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N.Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery. In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.* At your druggist. Money back guarantee.

Men Of LaSalle To Hold Minstrel In September

The Men of LaSalle will present their annual minstrel on September 28, 29 and 30 in Carroll Hall. John J. O'Donnell and Paul Stakem, graduates of LaSalle High School, are the writers and producers of the show, the first act of which will be "Around The World in Forty Minutes."

The second act will be in the form of a minstrel. A larger cast is being planned for this year's production with added specialties and soloists.

Auditions will be held on the first rehearsal night August 20 at Carroll Hall beginning at 7:30 p. m. Assisting O'Donnell as director will be Sid Storer, a veteran performer in minstrels of past years.

Miss Mary Jo Simpson will be the production assistant, and Miss Sally Maurey will be accompanist at the piano. Stage Manager Thomas O'Rourke said that work has begun on the sets and scenery which will be completed soon. Tickets for the show will go on sale around Labor Day.

Bloodmobile Passes Quota At Local Visit

Total 204 Persons Make Donations; 83 Make First Visit

A total of 204 persons donated blood yesterday when the Johnson Bloodmobile Unit visited the local Eagles Lodge.

Officials of the Allegany County Red Cross were pleased with yesterday's turnout since the quota had been increased to 185 pints.

Of the 204 pints donated yesterday, 83 were walk-ins.

A spokesman for the county chapter said 19 persons were rejected and 25 employees from the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company donated blood. There also were 20 replacements made yesterday.

Eleven persons joined the Gallon Club yesterday. They were: Mrs. Mary Venderberg, Cresaptown; Walter C. Dermer, 624 Shriver Avenue; Mrs. Lola Taylor, 635 Baltimore Avenue; Mrs. Blanche Curry, 704 Montgomery Avenue; Miss Margaret V. King, 320 Prince George Street; Harry J. Lewis, 130 Mary Street; Harold B. Miller, 236 Williams Street; Mrs. Evelyn O'Donnell, 812 Stewart Avenue; Mrs. Ana Keplinger, Wiley Ford; Mrs. Alice F. Zorick, 805 Manns Terrace; and Mrs. Eleanor Hershiser, Bowman's Addition.

New members to the Two Gallon Club include Ralph E. Hoelzer, 814 Greene Street; Mrs. Eola Scott, 907 Fayette Street; Mrs. Lula King, 362 Williams Street; Thomas F. Conlon Jr., 523 Avirett Avenue; Mrs. Stella Kisamore, 546 McFullen Highway and Mrs. Helen P. Wise, 12 North Smallwood Street.

Two persons from Cumberland joined the Three Gallon Club yesterday. They were Thomas B. Cumiskey Jr., 418 Holland Street, and William John Malachowski, 34 South Street.

Yesterday's collection at the Eagles Home was one of the largest by the mobile unit. The biggest collection in the city was in July 1957, when 272 persons donated blood.

Physicians in attendance yesterday were Drs. Mark Kroll, Emmett L. Jones and H. W. Ellison.

The mobile unit will not visit Cumberland until October, but will be at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory and in Westernport, next month.

Maryland Man Selected On Andrea Doria Salvage Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—If all goes well, a former Marine frogman named Mike Freeman will be spending part of his vacation this month aboard the liner Andrea Doria.

That the big ship lies 225 feet beneath the Atlantic doesn't particularly bother Freeman, 34, of Kerby Hills, Md. He'll be paid around $720 every time he goes down to the ship, he said.

Freeman and three other area skindivers have been hired by the AAA Salvage Co. of Trenton, N. J., which has started to try to raise the 29,000 ton vessel.

"Lots of divers refused to touch this job once they mentioned the depth," Freeman said. "Down from Falls Church, Va., will leave there it's as much work to pick up a wrench as it is to saw wood all day on the surface."

Freeman, who sells skindiving gear, leaves here Saturday for his final physical examination at Trenton. Lee Nicholson, 22, a fishing boat captain from Ridge, Md., and Everett Dulin, 25, a mortician from Falls Church, Va., will leave with him. They are to be followed by Dewey G. Sprinkle, 30, of Washington, a salesman. Each will be gone about three weeks.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

New President

GEN. FUAD CHEHAB was the obvious and the most hopeful choice to succeed the incumbent Camille Chamoun as president of Lebanon. He appears to have a wide popular following and is acceptable to the rebels who have kept Lebanon in turmoil since mid-May. Only Chamoun's close supporters have reservations about him, because he did not lead the Lebanon army into vigorous counter-assault against the rebels. But even these men could see that he was the one man whose election might end the dangerous and enervating strife.

CAGILY, CHEHAB has held silent during his country's ordeal. And his refusal to act to suppress the rebels undoubtedly added still further to his suitability as a compromise candidate. While it also perhaps prolonged the revolt, on the other hand it may have helped to curb its force. Whether Chamoun can now be brought to resign before his term expires September 23, as the rebels wish him to do, is a question. But certainly Chehab will need time to prepare for the formidable tasks which lie ahead of him. Presumably the U. S. Marines will leave Lebanon when and if Chehab requests their departure. But that will be only a beginning. Much of tiny Lebanon is in rebel hands. Chehab will have to seal the borders with Syria, disarm the several rebel groups and restore substantial areas to civil control. While he is thus acting to pacify Lebanon internally, he will have the more complex assignment of adjusting his country's foreign policy in a way that will keep opposing Lebanese elements below the boiling point hereafter. The big questions involve the matters of how far he may seek to detach Lebanon from the Eisenhower doctrine and how closely he may come to the kind of Pan-Arabism represented by Peridant Nasser of the United Arab Republic.

CHAMOUN'S adherence to the Eisenhower doctrine is said to have been one of the principal factors touching off the current revolt. On Chehab's military shoulders rests a heavy load. He must find a course for Lebanon that will not only assure it its independence in a turbulently changing Middle East, but will lessen the prospect of conflict between East and West over the area. The world will not have too long to wait to learn whether Chehab will fulfill the hopes which now repose in him as the new Lebanese president.

Less Secrecy

IT IS GOOD THAT Congress found time, in the midst of other concerns that might have seemed more pressing, to strike a blow for freedom of information. This was done by passage of a bill that amends an old law authorizing government agency chiefs to regulate the custody and use of official records. The former law, enacted in 1789, had been used by department heads as their legal basis for withholding information that might have embarrassed or inconvenienced them. This abuse of authority, which did violence to the concept that the people are entitled to know what their government is doing, aroused strong opposition from the nation's press. Now this opposition has borne fruit. As is proper, access to certain data—FBI files, secrets related to the national security, and other information covered by specific laws—will continue to be restricted. But heads of government agencies have been notified, as Sen. Thomas C. Hennings said, "that Congress will not tolerate secrecy except where it is clearly justified and specifically authorized."

Gatherer Of Legends

THE DEATH OF Henry W. Shoemaker at 76 was not widely noted, yet he had an interesting and varied career. He was at different times a railroad man, a banker, a newspaper publisher and a diplomat. In the latter capacity he served as minister to Bulgaria from 1930 to 1933. His most lasting fame may come, not from such activities, but from his hobby of collecting the legends and proverbs of his native Pennsylvania. He was most interested in stories handed down by word of mouth, with no written record. Other states also have interesting unpublished lore. Citizens would do well to gather old local traditions while a few still live who recall them. Those who pursue this hobby can do much to enrich the nation's cultural tradition.

Big Future Seen For Harmonica Boys

NEW YORK—If Eddy Manson had been alive in the days of Abraham Lincoln, the history of the United States might have been different.

Abe was a mean moulter on the harmonica. He used it to blow out between log-choppings. But there was no future in the harmonica in those days so he went into politics, with recorded results.

Today, thanks largely to Manson, the picture is different. "The kids who are playing the harmonica now will find that, by the time they've grown up, they can make a good living with their instrument," Eddy says. "It's no longer a toy. It's recognized as a legitimate instrument. More and more orchestras and combos are using harmonica sections. It blends beautifully with everything—brass, strings, woodwinds."

MANSON, a wiry, full-mouthed graduate of Juillard, deserves much of the credit for convincing the world of musicians—and the public—that the harmonica deserves a genuine place in most of the musical forms.

Ever since he swallowed a toy harmonica at the age of three, he has had a genuine "feel" for the instrument.

It was Eddy, for instance, who had an Academy Award nomination for his own compositions, the harmonica background music for the films, "The Little Fugitive" and "Lovers and Lollipops." It is he who convinced the Musicians' Union to recognize harmonicaists.

AT THE RISK of his reputation with Senate subcommittees, he even sent his new album, "The Hi Is Fi," to President Eisenhower, a one-time harmonica hack.

He received a thank you note from Sherman Adams, which, for obvious reasons, he lost.

"I believe that the harmonica, which is the least expensive instrument a parent can give to his child, would go a long way toward curbing delinquency," Manson says.

"Especially now that it's being taken seriously, it's a worthwhile hobby for a child. If he gets to love it, as I did, he now doesn't have to put it away as a childish thing. He can always use it to make a living."

Why some woman in Tuscaloosa or Goose Bay can knit a small sweater without even exciting the neighbors next door while Miss Mansfield gets three-column pictures in the papers doing the same is a mystery beyond answering. In all the pictures taken of Miss Mansfield nobly knitting for her unborn child, she held the yarn and the needles as though they were cobras ready to bite her. I mean, she looked distinctly uncomfortable about having some knitting in her hands.

ON ANOTHER liner, Van Johnson, a talent from the Broadway chorus line who became a movie star, came in from a stint of overseas picture making and his gambit was to mop his brow to show how hot New York was. Exactly 8,716,456 resident New Yorkers were perfectly aware

WITHOUT their arrangers, Eddy added, such stars as Sinatra, Como and Fisher would be "nowhere near the successes" that records and television have made them today.

And without constantly changing, beautiful arrangements (which he calls "re-composing"), the great song classics would be forgotten after their first round of success.

Dulles Has Date With Brazilian Friend

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is now in Rio de Janeiro for conferences with President Juscelino Kubitschek and other Brazilian officials August 5-8.

There's a concerted effort to make it more than a conference of the two governments to discuss their own problems. The inspiration of Kubitschek's original letter to President Eisenhower, suggesting a thorough review of hemisphere understanding, was the rough treatment given Vice President Richard M. Nixon on his Latin-American good will tour.

The Brazilian president said this showed that Pan-American unity had suffered serious impairment.

Actually, there is some ground for believing Kubitschek is using the Nixon incidents as an excuse for seeking solutions to some of his own serious internal problems.

Also, nobody authorized the Brazilian president to speak for other Latin-American heads of state. There is some resentment that Kubitschek is setting himself up as chief negotiator.

IT IS ADMITTED that Brazil has been one of the staunchest allies of the United States in Latin-America. Brazil furnished troops for World War II and has traditionally supported American foreign policies.

U. S. private investments in Brazil have more than doubled in the last eight years to a total of over 1.2 billion dollars today. Over half of this is in manufacturing industries.

Of the 2.1 billion dollars the Export-Import Bank has loaned to Latin-America, 1.2 billion has been authorized for Brazil. Brazil is currently negotiating for another 150 million dollar credit. Since it will owe Export-Import Bank 91 million dollars in principal and interest during the coming year, it is considered probable that at least this amount will be refinanced.

Brazil has received 180 million dollars' worth of U.S. agricultural surpluses and 20 million in technical aid.

Also, Brazil has obtained 181 million dollars in loans from World Bank. It has withdrawn

112 million of its 150-million reserves in the International Monetary Fund.

UNITED STATES now takes half of Brazil's exports and supplies a third of its imports. Total exports last year were 659 million dollars and imports 548 million.

Brazil spends over 200 million dollars a year on petroleum imports because it has no oil production of its own. Development of oil is a national monopoly and foreign capital has not been allowed to explore or produce.

The principal cause of Brazil's bad financial position, however, is overproduction of coffee, an internal problem.

Coffee normally accounts for 80 per cent of Brazil's foreign currency earnings. Coffee prices have dropped as the prices of other commodities have risen.

INFLATION has driven the cost of living up 28 per cent in 1956, 11 per cent in 1957 and 11 per cent in the first five months of 1958. It's no wonder that Brazil is yelling for help.

President Kubitschek proposes an inter-American conference on the highest political level to deal with this situation generally. He wants it before the next scheduled meeting of the Organization of American States at Quito in 1959.

Kubitschek complains that all of Latin-America is suffering from U.S. neglect and the disease of economic anemia. He thinks the United States can cure this undernourishment by greater investments, doubled technical assistance, stabilized prices on Latin-American exports and liberalized loan policies.

President Eisenhower has suggested in reply that foreign ministers of the American republics might meet more often. A plan for something of this sort might emerge from the Dulles mission to Rio.

LABOR PEACE PACT—President Roosevelt today approved a joint declaration for industrial peace proposed to him by leaders of labor and industry in an unprecedented effort to end disputes. The president has named a board of seven men, headed by Sen. Wagner of New York, to administer the peace effort.

FEDERAL AID SOUGHT—Representative David J. Lewis of Maryland and Jennings Randolph of West Virginia say they plan to ask that the Stony River Dam project be included in the Federal Public Works program. Cost of the project, which would permit flushing of the Potomac and prevent floods, is estimated from $700,000 to $1,000,000.

CONTRACT AWARDED—The Board of Education has awarded James C. Powell the contract for the erection of a 16-room brick addition to Allegany High School. Powell's bid is for $93,000.

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—Although I am not a regular stroller down the West Side waterfront of New York, avoiding that area of drang and Sturm as much as possible, I have to say that during late July and all of August it is a fine place in which to pick up evidence that most actors are hams. Actresses, too. They are the original show-off, foot-in-mouth tribe and nothing like arriving from Europe on a luxury liner brings it out faster.

It has become a chic thing to fly to Europe and come back by liner, which is just as well because this reduces the nonsense quotient by 50 per cent.

Very few actors have anything to say while standing at Idlewild waiting to board a plane for London, Paris or Rome. But coming back on the Liberte, the United States or either of the Queens—look out! They are loaded to the scuppers with detailed, and frequently foolish, talk in areas ranging from gestation to Lebanon, a reasonably wide assortment of topics.

MISS JAYNE Mansfield, a notable acrobat who finds it no trouble at all to put her foot in her mouth, came back the other morning on one of the liners and forthwith held out a swatch of knit goods as proof that some months hence she will become a mother.

Her husband, Hargitay, was along to testify that Jayne was knitting like mad for the little fellow.

All I saw was a patch of knitting about three inches by four inches and Miss Mansfield held this out in front of her as though ready to shrill: "Look, look, I'm knitting!"

Why some woman in Tuscaloosa or Goose Bay can knit a small sweater without even exciting the neighbors next door while Miss Mansfield gets three-column pictures in the papers doing the same is a mystery beyond answering. In all the pictures taken of Miss Mansfield nobly knitting for her unborn child, she held the yarn and the needles as though they were cobras ready to bite her. I mean, she looked distinctly uncomfortable about having some knitting in her hands.

ON ANOTHER liner, Van Johnson, a talent from the Broadway chorus line who became a movie star, came in from a stint of overseas picture making and his gambit was to mop his brow to show how hot New York was. Exactly 8,716,456 resident New Yorkers were perfectly aware that it was hot and also humid and did not need Mr. Johnson and a clownish brow mopping to spur them.

In accomplishing this idiotic bit of pantomime he joined ranks with a sprat named Jerry Lewis, who always can be counted to perform the obvious when returning from global journeys. As though Johnson's mopping bit was not enough to deliver the message, Mrs. Johnson stood happily to one side grinning like a Cheshire and plainly contributing nothing to the event.

I LIKED IT better in the old days when Al Jolson would come in, put his back against the ship's railing and belt out a couple of songs, or when Caruso would come in and shiver the air with some golden notes.

They were performers, not show-offs. They were down on the books as singers, so they sang. They never knitted anything in their colorful lives or wouldn't be caught dead doing anything so banal as mopping their brows in hot weather.

Sophie Tucker would loose a few well-chosen, if often brassy, words about travel in Europe and Gertrude Lawrence, may she rest, would, and only if asked, say a few cogent things about show business. Never, as is so common now, would she launch into world economics, international tensions, the facets of history or why the Middle East was broiling and working up a hate. She knew her place: actress. She had no falsely intellectual pretensions to being a whiz on everything.

THE ONLY ONE I, for one, can count on these days to arrive from Europe or anywhere else with gentlemanly reticence, and with becoming modesty and graceful wordlessness is a gent I long have admired and who is an acquaintance. I cannot presume to call him a friend.

Not only can he act rings around the show-offs, but he has the brains to know that cosmic declarations are not expected from him. His name is Gregory Peck. If you asked him to pose for pictures mopping a hot brow or doing anything else cliché and foolish, he'd walk away. More power to him.

Mr. Peck on all occasions is a person of dignity and self-respect. I have no major suggestions to make to the movies, leaving that chore to others, but if asked I would say that a few more Pecks would do much to elevate an industry currently making a fool of itself.

No Way To Treat Nice Lady

WASHINGTON — Mrs. Nancy Dawson of Detroit probably is America's most beautiful laundress.

She appeared tall, blonde and slim before the Senators. Her dress was of natural-colored linen (freshly laundered, of course) and her high-heeled shoes of leather matched her frock exactly. The members of the labor rackets committee were goggled-eyed: Nancy was the prettiest witness ever to sit before them. They trusted aloud that she'd stay that way.

Three times before she came here, Detroit hoodlums had threatened her. One of these threats suggested that if she talked too much, she'd lose her beauty.

IT PROBABLY is unfair to call Nancy a laundress. She doesn't exactly wash the overalls, herself, except in emergencies when business is booming at her Dawson Industrial Laundry. Mostly she's the lady executive type, like Rosalind Russell in the movies, making big deals in the overall business.

This, in Detroit, where there probably are more automobiles and garages per capita than anywhere else, is a mighty industry. The evidence indicates it's worth $20,000,000 a year. It is a cold cash business — $4 a man a week to keep him in clean coveralls — and the gangsters have muscled in.

WHEN NANCY signs a contract, such as she did at the Ellsworth Ford Agency, she measures the men in the shop (not personally, fellows) for size. Then every week she picks up his dirty coveralls and hands him clean ones to fit. Many a garage pays her around $400 a month for this service.

Nancy was keeping the Ford mechanics happily in clean clothes until last year, when she discovered that it wasn't so much the quality of the laundry work as it was which gangster she knew that was important.

The Ellsworth Agency informed her that, because of pressures coming from one Herman Kierdorf of the Teamsters Union, it was giving its overall-washing business to the Star Laundry, operated by one Vince Meli.

VINCE WAS the son of Angelo, long known as one of the leading public enemies in Detroit, and backer of his offspring's laundry. Nancy knew no gangsters personally, but she had a friend who was acquainted with old Angelo. To him this friend went, explaining that what Vince did was no way to treat a lady.

It wasn't long before Joe Lehr, who worked for Vince, was taking her to lunch and saying he was sorry he couldn't give her back that Ellsworth Ford business, but he'd already bought extra overalls so he could handle it. He said, however, that he'd make it up by sending some other clients her way.

SHE SOON signed up a Chevrolet agency and Lehr took credit for that at another lunch with Nancy. She said that wasn't good enough; she knew the Chevy man, herself, and she got that business personally.

She said Lehr then told another Chevrolet dealer to give his business to Nancy — that is, if he wanted to avoid labor trouble — and she got that account, too. Then the Senators sent investigators to Detroit. They talked to Nancy.

WHEN WORD got around that she'd be testifying in Washington, two telephone threats came to her secretary while she was out drumming up business. Then she said she got a third through an unnamed friend who quoted a hoodlum as saying it would be a shame if her face were disfigured.

"Did this-upset you?" inquired Senator John L. McClellan.

"A little," said Nancy.

The Senator said nobody'd better try to harm her, or the night of the U.S.A. would take care of him. I go along with him; what business needs is more Nancys.

So They Say

The best thing that can happen to a public man is to be depicted as a villain, so that when he does make a public appearance he is so much different than they expected that the public says, "Why, he is an angel." I am very grateful for many years of misrepresentation. — British Labor party leader Aneurin Bevan to the press.

NEW YORK—What is the main problem of a creative writer in this country?

"It's the pace of American life itself," said Budd Schulberg.

"It's so easy to get distracted. Too many things going on. Too many phones ringing. You have to find a place where you can dig in and be alone."

Budd, a strongly built, gregarious fellow with a face like a friendly grizzly bear, has a place of retreat. It's a small beach shack at Sarasota, Fla.

But he has had no time for privacy since he and his brother, Stuart, teamed up as movie producers, following the family tradition established by their noted father, B. P. Schulberg, a Hollywood picture pioneer.

Their first venture is the until now untold story of the renegade plume hunters in Florida's watery frontier wilderness. They plan next year to make a film on the capture of the Remagen Bridge across the Rhine in World War II.

"But I want to keep on writing," said Budd, who is currently working on a Broadway production of one of his earlier novels, "The Disenchanted."

HE SOLD A COUPLE of short stories for $50 each while still a student at Dartmouth. After graduation he clicked with the slick paper magazines, worked on a dozen film scripts, then hit big with his first novel, "What Makes Sammy Run."

The film version of a latter novel, "On the Waterfront," won an Academy Award.

Schulberg, a man with a vast appetite for living, likes to work hard and play hard. His prodigious researches have made him acquainted with enough rogues and rascals, caught and uncaught, to overflow Sing Sing.

"Sometimes I don't know whether the research I do is really work," he said, "or a form of procrastination—to delay the actual writing."

"But I'm pretty fast once I start writing. I write my first draft in pencil on one of those long yellow legal pads. In fact I'm blocked without one—can't write until I do find one."

BUDD MAKES corrections in his second draft, which he turns out on the typewriter. Then makes interlinear changes in it before having his third and final draft typed.

Budd feels the biggest price any writer has to pay is failure because of refusal to compromise his material.

"But you have to be ready to fail rather than compromise," he said, although the temptation to compromise is stronger than ever.

"But the most successful writers have become successful by trying to please themselves rather than the public. The public responds in the long run to the writer who stays true to himself."

Here is his advice to a beginning writer: "Love or hate something. Learn as much as you can and crystallize your own attitudes—so you won't imitate anybody else."

"Then take the thing you know the best and feel strongest about, and write it in your own way. If you don't feel strongly about anything, you probably won't be able to write well about it."

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON—Prof. Maarten C. Bolle is a large scholarly gentleman, with a shock of faculty hair, who gave up teaching to become a newspaperman. He is now stationed in Washington as correspondent for Het Vrije Volk, of Amsterdam. From time to time he suffers from the quaint delusion that he is beginning to understand America, but something always turns up in the nick of time to restore him to rational uncertainty.

The journalistic Netherlander hasn't figured out Sherman Adams yet, although few people have so thoroughly gotten in Dutch. The other day, however, Prof. Bolle had a feeling—which turned out to be fleeting—that he was at least seeing this country through new and clearer eyes.

In his professional capacity, he interviewed 28 Dutch exchange high school students. He thought he was getting the real picture when the teen-agers began comparing Dutch and American life, as they had experienced it.

ONE PRETTY young maiden told him she had been troubled at first by the easy American way of dating. She went on to compare it with the medieval restrictions imposed at home. Prof. Bolle, who has interviewed prime ministers on affairs of the nation, but never a school girl on affairs of the heart, encouraged her to amplify. He took copious notes, intending to do a learned essay in Dutch cable.

The young woman said she had encountered many strange problems in dating, but had finally resolved them to her complete satisfaction.

Palpating, Prof. Bolle inquired how she had achieved this happy result.

The girl frowned. "Well, it was a little hard to handle the American boys at first." Then she broke into a wide, guileless smile. "But after a couple of months they treated me just like they would any American girl."

The Professor went away shaking his head—and when last seen had again lapsed into pedagogical bafflement.

I AM BEGINNING to realize that I was an underprivileged kiddie. We didn't have a woodshed.

Hardly a week goes by any more that some child psychologist does not bemoan the passing of the woodshed. The latest victim of this savage nostalgia is Peace Justice Marjorie Hendry, of Tampa, Fla. He called for a return to the woodshed to combat juvenile delinquency. Apparently with keen reminiscence, he said, "My father's juvenile court was in the woodshed."

This sounds laudably sadistic, but I wonder if it is practically, and in keeping with the national economy, to rebuild woodsheds just to beat the pants off little kiddies. Why can't they be smacked in the boudoir, the den, or even the rumpus room?

I doubt if the woodshed ever was as prevalent as the latter day nostalgists would have you believe. In my day, which was not recently, few city dwellers had woodsheds. Many mothers didn't have to worry about the wood, because father was pretty sure to come home with a load.

This undoubtedly explains why all city children grew up to be devils, and all country children, angels. But it seems to me that, in this scientific age, it would be anachronistic to build a woodshed as a correctional institution. By employing the latest in technology, we could construct a torture chamber in a corner of the game room.

Egypt's Nasser Biggest Figure In Middle East

EDITOR'S NOTE—Gamal Abdel Nasser has grown into the biggest figure in the Middle East. How much of his story is reality, how much is myth? William L. Ryan appraises Nasser's appeal in this article, second of a series of four.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Scholarly young Arab intellectuals speak in clear, clipped British accents of the coming rout of the Western foreigner.

Well-heeled young sheiks in immaculate white robes and kaffiyahs mutter sullen protests against the feudalism which is the source of their wealth.

Palestine refugees cling to their tin-roofed shacks and dream of revenge.

And all look speculatively toward Cairo. For the present, at any rate, Gamal Abdel Nasser is their hero.

This is not because he is Gamal Abdel Nasser. It is because they are in search of a hero. Nasser will do until a better one comes along. Nasserism is something which grew out of international events, inexorably pushing the Arabs into violently defensive attitudes. But Nasserism need not be the only way out for them.

In fact, Nasser already has passed one peak of popularity in the Arab East. The United Arab Republic's president still has enormous potential for good or mischief. But developments this year have cooled the ardor of some of his followers.

It is for the West now to recognize that Nasser is only a symbol to most nationalists. His appeal is to a small but powerful intellectual class which blames the West for its woes. It sees Nasser as a symbol of reviving Arab power, which one day will crush imperialism and colonialism. It blames these for its sense of inferiority and backwardness in a modern world.

Nasser has a spur to revolution in Iraq. But this did not necessarily mean Iraqis in the future would follow him blindly. They won't, if they have something more promising to follow.

Nasser is the goad to revenge among Palestine refugees. Many of the half million of these in Jordan have moved into the country's economic mainstream and with their education and business knowhow are flourishing. They can educate their children now and keep their families well. But they cling to that United Nations refugee card and stay doggedly in their awful hovels, because to give up either would be to surrender their claims to revenge against Israel.

Even these will not follow Nasser blindly. They follow him so long as he represents their hopes for revenge.

The sleek young sheiks admire Nasser for the moment. Their admiration stems from fury at the spectacle of their own countries still mired in centuries old feudal backwardness in the midst of oil riches.

I talked with representatives of all these groups—in Iraq, in Saudi Arabia, in fabulously wealthy Kuwait, in Egypt. Everywhere it was Nasser the symbol rather than Nasser the man—the solitary beacon in what to the young intellectual was a sea of darkness.

In the sun-scorched British protectorate of Kuwait, these young men live in a luxury unheard of in other Arab areas. Yet they are unhappy. More than anything, they told me, they want Arab national self-respect. If Nasser represented that, they would follow him. Goaded by thousands of Egyptians, Palestinians and Syrians now citizens of their country, the young Kuwaitis seemed perfectly willing to sacrifice some of their oil wealth to "Uruba"—Arabism.

In baffling Saudi Arabia, Western-educated and rich young Bedouins sulk over the restrictions of Wahhabism, a puritanical interpretation of Islam which is the state religion. It prevents them from entering the new world to which they feel their education entitles them. They belong to no world now—neither the world of the Saudis with all its backwardness nor the world of the Americans in Saudi Arabia—oil company families—with all their glittering appurtenances of modern society. They, too, are affected by Egyptian propaganda and have persuaded themselves some of their oil riches might better be used for Arabism than for perpetuating the royal house and its innumerable princes.

In turbulent Iraq, King Faisal's government, prodded by the British, tried to get a development program into high gear. That was not enough to slake the young men's thirst for change.

The Iraqis would follow the Nasser symbol, too. But to some, even Nasser was proving to have feet of clay. Some told me they were not so sure as they were two years ago that all Nasser stands for is right. The swift with which Egypt swallowed Syria shook their faith in their hero. This was not the sort of Arab unity they had envisioned.

City Sewer Fees May Hit $260,000

The city should receive approximately $260,000 during the current fiscal year from sewage service charges, City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson reports.

This should be sufficient to operate the sewage treatment facility Evitts Creek pumping station, Bedford Street sewage ejector station and sanitary sewage system of the city, he added.

The revenue estimate is based upon a full year and being received at the same rate established during the three quarters sewage charges have been billed, Gibson said.

Collections on sewage service for 1957-58 totaled $194,288.95. The sewage service levy for that fiscal year was set at $247,500.

Based on Estimates Since no definite information on costs was available, the levy was based on estimated costs of operations for the sewage treatment and collection system.

Accordingly, $247,500 was included in the levy and charges were set up, based on 75 per cent of water bills of customers connected to city sewage lines. For customers who use 2,000 cubic feet of water or less, this is $4.05 a quarter, bringing minimum water and sewage charges to $8.88 for three months.

The late Water Commissioner William J. Edwards liked to point out that water and sewage service combined costs 10 cents a day for most Cumberland families and that it was the best utility bargain in the city.

Gibson said that last year's sewage treatment budget was based on revenues and expenditures for a full year.

However, charges were not made until the second quarter of the fiscal year, so that only three quarters of revenue came in. Operating costs were for the same period, however, as first quarter's operations were considered experimental and charged to bond funds used to build the plant, and place it in operating condition.

Finances About Even Income and expenditures for the three quarters, Gibson said, will be about even.

The actual income from sewage treatment charges is slightly above the estimates made last year. The levy was based on the expectation of about $216,000 income from charges to individuals and about $42,000 from industries for total charges of $258,000. Discounts for prompt payment of bills were estimated at $10,000 to bring anticipated net income to the $248,000 mark.

Actual net income for the 1957-58 fiscal year averaged about $65,000 a quarter and should net $260,000 this fiscal year.

Eight husky dogs who accompanied the British expedition to the South Pole this year have been given to Norway where they will draw ambulance sledges.

France's 'Forgotten War' Grinds On In Algeria

ALGIERS (UPI)—France's "forgotten war" in Algeria grinds on, youths who are easily demoralized, and that the appeals Gen. Charles de Gaulle has launched to bring about a negotiated settlement by summit diplomacy and the Middle East crisis.

But today, as they have almost every day since Nov. 1, 1954, when Algerian nationalism exploded into organized armed revolt, French patrols fanned out across the wild regions they now call "the rotten zones."

In these areas (there are reported to be five scattered across Algeria and covering hundreds of square miles of territory) the French units know that rebel influence is strong, surrounding them like a silent sea.

In these zones shadowy guerrilla bands are hidden, poised to strike savagely, then melt back into the wilderness.

The week of July 27, as it has almost every week for more than 43 months, the French Supreme Command in Algiers issued its official count of rebels killed throughout the territory for the past seven days.

Taking More Prisoners "From July 21 to 27," the communiqué read, "479 rebels were killed and 164 captured in Algeria." The previous week's totals were: 498 killed, 184 prisoners.

For the past two years the rebel dead announced by the French week have varied around the present figure. Last summer the count often rose to more than 1,000 men wiped out, at other times it has fallen to about 300.

But never before, the French say, has the number of prisoners taken been so high, week in, week out.

They claim this means the rebels are running low on fighting manpower, that they are recruiting mostly battle-shy, teen-agers about 400,000 troops in the territory. According to left-wing newspapers in Paris, the French army has asked for 80,000 to 100,000 more.

Rebels Outnumbered But leaders of the main rebel organization, called FLN, scoff at this as "French propaganda."

They say 90 per cent of Algeria's Moslems are behind the nationalists fighters and that the French can give up all hope of crushing them by military force.

Whether the oft-repeated French claims are now coming true, whether the FLN's statements are bravado or simple fact, one thing is sure: day after day the fighting continues and men die.

Present estimates of full-time rebel fighting strength number their troops at about 40,000 men. About 60,000 part-time guerrillas are believed to join in anti-French raids from time to time.

The French are said to have chief in Algeria, Gen. Raoul Salan, has asked for 80,000 to 100,000 more.

Coin Boxes For Overtime Parking Planned By Town

PIEDMONT — Coin boxes for the purposes of depositing money for overtime parking will be placed in the business area of town.

One will be installed at Number 1 parking lot; one on Ashfield Street and probably the third on Green Street. Action on the matter was discussed at a meeting of Mayor Rodney Baker and Council last night.

Mayor Baker expressed the opinion that motorists would rather use the boxes than waste time by going to the town clerk's office to make payments.

The mayor stated that 25 double and two single parking meters have been ordered from the Dunham Parking Meter Company. These devices will be placed on Second, Third and Green Streets. The company is allowing the town a credit of $12.50 on each single meter and $25 on double meters turned in. Last week $117.22 was collected from parking meters.

Council ordered that five parking meters be placed on Number 3 parking lot between Second Street and Child's Avenue. Weekly has been rented on a weekly basis and the meters will be placed in the area not rented to give the town additional revenue.

A letter of appreciation will be sent to Ernest Cowell and Jeffrey Watt who conducted swimming classes at the Piedmont swimming pool. There was no charge for their services.

Permits were granted Lee W. Walker to build a five-room house with bath to be covered with weather boarding in Faherty addition at the east end of town. Louie T. Schoppert, to a build back porch, 7 by 24 feet with eight windows and cement floor at 37-39 East Harrison Street; and John V. Niland, to cover a house at 169 West Fairview Street with shingles.

Robert Mongold, police officer, was granted a vacation period during the week of August 17-23. Zane Patzelt will substitute for Mongold.

A letter from the Housing and Finance Agency of the federal government was read by Mayor Baker. The agency asked for additional information.

The town has asked for a loan of $7,000 to be used to make a preliminary survey for a sanitary sewer to be attached to the sewage plant now being built by the Upper Potomac River Commission for the principal use of the Luke Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company.

Mayor Baker reported that a Public Service Commission auditor who has been auditing the town's water records for several days will complete his work tomorrow. He is setting up a new system.

The town has filed an application with the PSC to raise water rent 3 1/2 per cent, and a decision is expected after the auditor makes his report.

Mayor Baker read a report from a contractor who had been asked to make recommendations as to improvements needed to make the town clerk's office more efficient. Although no action was taken, it was thought it will be more practical to buy new office equipment rather than to remodel the building.

Council Will Aid Library At Frostburg

FROSTBURG — The City of Frostburg entered into an agreement last night with the Frostburg Free Public Library to accept the deed to a property, and to help maintain the library and the expense of a librarian.

The agreement was the outcome of an anonymous donation of $7,500. A similar amount was realized through the cooperation of local service clubs and organizations.

According to the agreement the city will accept the title to a property purchased for the library and to hold it for the library. In event the property will no longer be used as a library, the title will be turned over to the American Red Cross to be used for proper corporate purposes. This was a stipulation by the donor of the $7,500.

The city also agreed to either have the mayor or a councilman designated to serve as an ex-officio member of the library board of trustees.

Council also donated $250 to each of the following groups: Bardock Playground, East End Playground and the Little League. Harry Eisel, an official of the Pony League, received a donation of $50 for his group.

A ruling was passed by the council, amending section 3 of Ordinance 376-B. The amendment stipulates that all trash within the city limits must be burned in a suitable container to keep fire from spreading. The fire must be attended at all times by a person of not less than 16 years of age. No garbage or other materials that may cause a noxious odor shall be burned. No fire shall be lighted within 50 feet of a residence and none lighted after 7 p. m. or before 8 a. m.

Public Sentiment Favors Extending Town Boundaries

WARDENSVILLE — Public sentiment is running high in favor of extending the town limits of Wardenstown.

Following a suggestion of the town's attorney, Ralph J. Bean, residents voted overwhelmingly that the mayor appoint a committee to propose new town lines for discussion at a later meeting.

Mayor Gordon Zirkle appointed the following committee: Ervin Ennsweiler, chairman, J. A. Hawkins, William I. Snyder, Beulah Heltzel, Paul Miller, Blair Highman and John Aylor. Another meeting is set for next Tuesday at 7:45 p. m. in the War Memorial Building. At this meeting, the committee's report on proposed new town lines will be discussed to see if enough citizens are in favor of an election at a later date.

Bean outlined the legal procedure for enlarging the corporation at a recent meeting. Courtney R. Tusing, cashier of the Capon Valley Bank, spoke of the necessity for enlarging and developing the town.

Light W. Virginia Primary Indicated In Ballot Today

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — Most political observers were convinced the usual off-year voter apathy would prevail in West Virginia's primary election today despite an abnormal number of statewide races this year.

Predictions forecast less than 33 per cent of the eligible voters would turn out to cast their ballots. Leaders of both parties, however, believed that "local interest" races would bring out more voters than many had anticipated.

West Virginia stands out this year as the only state in the nation electing two senators.

Republican incumbent Sens. Chapman Revercomb and John D. Hoblitzell are unopposed for their party's nomination. On the other hand, a raft of Democratic candidates — three for the full six-year term and four for the unexpired two-year term — are seeking the right to run in the November general election.

Most of the interest among the five statewide races on both tickets appeared to be centered around the Democratic short-term contest. This one features a comeback attempt by three former public officials.

Marland Faces Randolph

Former Gov. William C. Marland defeated by Revercomb in the 1956 Senate race for the unexpired term of the late Harley M. Kilgore, and former 2nd District Congressman Jennings Randolph of Elkins are expected to wage a close battle for the Senate "short term." Arnold Vickers or Montgomery, a former State Senate president, is a darkhorse. Also in the race is Del. W. R. (Squibb) Wilson of Fairmont. The winner will oppose Hoblitzell in the November general election.

Rep. Robert C. Byrd of Sophia, Raleigh County; Fleming Alderson of Charleston and Jack R. Delgatti of Fairmont are the trio of candidates seeking the Democratic nomination to run against Revercomb for the six-year term.

Other statewide races are for two Supreme Court judgeships and secretary of state. Also to be filled are nominations for 17 State Senate seats and 100 seats in the House of Delegates.

Numerous county board of education memberships and county court nominations also will be determined as will circuit judgeships in four counties.

In the voting on candidates for West Virginia's six seats in the House of Representatives, four of the five incumbents who are running have no primary opposition. The only one who does is veteran Republican Will E. Neal, but he is heavily favored.

Three Democrats, including former Rep. Robert H. Mollohan, unsuccessful nominee for governor in 1956, are seeking the nomination to oppose 1st District Rep. Arch A. Moore in the general election. Two Republicans are vying for the right to meet Rep. Cleveland Bailey in the 3rd District.

No Opposition

Sheriff Rex Baumgardner of Harrison County, a former football star, has no opposition for the GOP nod to run against 2nd District Rep. Harley O. Staggers in November. Three Democrats are running in Neal's 4th District.

Rep. Elizabeth Kee has no Republican opposition as yet to retain her seat, although a GOP 5th District Committee will choose a candidate for the general election.

Three candidates, including the wife of the late former Rep. E.H. Hedrick, are running for the 6th District seat which Byrd is vacating. F. O'Dair Duff of Charleston has a clear path to the Republican nomination.

His Democratic counterpart, Hulett C. Smith of Beckley, predicted at least 35 per cent of the Democratic registrants would cast ballots. He based his forecasts on

Hardy County Loses $12,633 In State Aid

MOOREFIELD — Hardy County schools will lose $12,633 in state aid as compared to last year, or $18,025 less than 1956-57, according to a release of the Board of School Finance.

This year's loss is not due to any change in law or state appropriation, but to several factors in the formula. The largest is that the recent tax commissioner's survey of property values charges the county with a greater loss. Another factor is that last year the Hardy County Board of Education was unable to fill several teacher vacancies and, as state aid is partially based on the previous year, this caused a loss.

By reorganization of transportation in several cases, total mileage was reduced, so less is allowed by the state.

The loss will be partially restored by local support as the county assessments are up $1,414,245, which will provide $6,219 additional money. This will leave a net loss of total state and county support of $6,414, as compared to last year and $11,006 less than two years ago.

Resigns Post

Mrs. Fanny Didawick has resigned as supervisor of the school lunch program in Hardy County to serve as manager of the cafeteria at Shepherd College, Shepherdstown. Mrs. Didawick, who was on leave of absence to complete her AB degree in home economics, served as county supervisor for 14 years.

She is a graduate of Moorefield High School and attended Shepherd College, Marshall College and West Virginia University. She will complete her degree at Shepherd College in January, 1959.

Mrs. Didawick taught in Hardy County school and was employed by the federal government during World War II.

WESTERNPORT — Margaret Shaw, recently fractured her left elbow in a fall. Her arm was placed in traction at Memorial Hospital, Cumberland.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Shaw, Front Street, and served as the Little Queen of the Blue Angels Drum Corps celebration in June.

Interest shown in local races in heavily populated Democratic areas like Logan, McDowell, Mingo and Raleigh Counties.

The Democratic registration of 660,850 in the state exceeds by 200,000 that of the Republicans, which stands at 410,929. Some 6,000 registered as independent will have to wait until November to vote on the candidates nominated by party partisans.

Theologian's Book Describes Best Way To Pray

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International
You don't have to feel pious to pray.

This advice comes from a distinguished American theologian who has written a simple, down-to-earth book for the millions of laymen who "don't know how" to approach God in prayer.

The author is the Rev. Dr. John B. Coburn, dean of the Episcopal Theological School at Cambridge, Mass. His book, "Prayer and Personal Religion," was published by the Presbyterian-sponsored Westminster Press.

Dean Coburn says the first rule for beginners in prayer is: "Be yourself."

"Be natural before God. Do not pretend to be what you are not. Do not pretend to emotions you do not feel. Tell him whatever is on your heart and mind with whatever words are most natural to you."

You should be "honest" in your prayers even when your true feelings toward God are far from pious, the dean believes.

No Cover Up
"If you feel resentful before God because someone you love has died, do not say with your lips, 'O God, thy will be done,' when underneath in your heart you are saying: 'This is a terrible thing you have done.'"

"You cannot cover up before God. Express yourself as you are—not as you imagine God says you ought to be. This natural expression of yourself at the outset is the guarantee that you can go on to a creative, free and mature relationship with God."

Coburn's second rule is: "Begin where you are."

Many people have the idea that it's wrong to pray "selfish" prayers. But Coburn says the important thing is to begin praying about your real needs, even if these are obviously "selfish" needs.

"Your beginning prayers can properly be 'selfish' prayers. They will change their character as your prayer continues and time goes on. There is nothing 'wrong' with them any more than there is something 'wrong' with the toddling steps of a small child."

Rule No. 3 is: Keep your prayers "brief, simple and direct" for the first few weeks. Long, complicated, "spiritual" prayers "will only cause confusion" at this stage and "should be avoided like the plague."

Three Basic Prayers
"There are three basic prayers at the beginning. The first is, 'O God, help me' or 'Help someone I love.' The second is, 'O God, forgive me.' The third is, 'O God, Thank you.'"

The key to each type of prayer, Coburn says, is to "be specific." Ask God forthrightly to help you (or your loved one) get well... control your temper... find a job... meet a forthcoming test. Tell Him you're sorry you spoke in anger... were impatient with the loyal wife... healthy children... children... drank too much... act-good job... or whatever blessing ed selfishly. Thank Him for a (Continued on Page 14)

Road Project Request Goes Before Board

Supervisor Asked To Make Report Following Study

A number of road complaints were received today by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Howard Dunnivan, William Martin, John Everline and Earl Dodge, who reside on Jefferson Lane in Westernport, appeared before the board to ask that something be done about the condition of the roadway.

They said that water drains from the Horse Rock area where a housing development was started some months ago and the ditches along the roadway are filled and the water has washed the roadway badly.

The four men said they would be willing to grant rights of ways in order that the road could be included in the county system. They said fire trucks, milk trucks, taxis or other vehicles refuse to service the area.

There are 10 or 11 families residing along the road, they added. Last winter when the new road into the Horse Rock development was covered by snow drifts the residents of that section used Jefferson Lane.

A spokesman for the men said if the roadway was graded and widened it would make an excellent second entrance to the housing development as well as give them a much-needed roadway.

The board said it would have Harry Skelly, roads supervisor, check into the matter and report back his recommendations.

Dwight R. Spencer, who resides on Stewart Road on Polish Mountain, appeared before the board to ask that the roadway be widened, graded, drainage pipes installed. The road runs off U. S. Route 40.

The board referred the request to Skelly for a report.

The commissioners took under advisement recommendations of the Fire Extinguisher Sales and Service Company concerning additional extinguishers, at the County Infirmary, County Home, Sylvan Retreat and County Garage on Franklin Street.

Church Plans Kindergarten In September

First Baptist Church will conduct a kindergarten Monday through Friday of each week beginning September 8, according to Rev. Archie C. Prevate, pastor.

It will be held from 9 a. m. to noon daily at the church on Bedford Street under the direction of Mrs. James Hancy. Transportation will be provided for the school.

Mrs. Hancy is a graduate of Fairmont State College, Fairmont, West Virginia with a bachelor of arts degree in elementary education. She taught four years and Harrison County, W. Va., and directed the First Baptist kindergarten last year.

The school is open to all children four and five years of age, and information concerning registrations can be made by contacting Mrs. Hancy at PA 2-2081.

Dog Warden Gives Report

Burza Hanlin, county dog warden, submitted his report for July to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today.

He listed the sale of 300 dog licenses, 228 for males, 68 for females and also three kennel permits. Hanlin said he made 84 calls during the month.

He picked up 76 stray dogs, eight dogs which had been killed on county highways and checked into reports of three persons bitten by dogs. Hanlin's gasoline and oil cost him $20.81 during the month.

Churches Plan Event Sunday

The Flintstone charge of the Methodist Church will be in charge Sunday, September 7, at the Union Grove camp grounds with Rev. David L. Bates, pastor, delivering the sermons.

The all-day event will include Sunday School at 10:30 a. m.; worship at 11 a. m.; a basket picnic at noon and a variety program and hymn sing in the afternoon.

Churches in the charge are Flintstone, Chaneyville, Mt. Hermon, Mt. Collier and Murley's Branch.

Water Usage Rises

Water consumption last week totaled $3,750,000 gallons compared to $2,200,000 for the same period last year, according to a report filed yesterday with the Mayor and Council. The water level at Lake Gordon was reported two feet, three inches below the crest of the dam, while it was an inch above at Lake Koon.

North End Field Lists Schedule For This Week

Three events are scheduled today for the North End playground with the three-man junior basketball team to play at Post playground this evening at 7 o'clock while the Teen Club meets at the playlot at 7 p. m. with a dance following until 10:30 for pre-teen and teenagers.

Tomorrow the girls' Pigtail softball team will meet Columbia Street at Stitzer Field at 10 a. m. while a "Wheels On Parade" event will be held at the playground at 2:30 p. m. Thursday will be picnic day and Mrs. Marian Wilson, handicraft supervisor, will visit in the afternoon.

The newspaper, "North End Review," will be on sale Friday with a hobby show and movies scheduled at 7:30 that evening. A collection will also be made Friday of all handicrafts for the intra-city show exhibition next week at the Flurshutz Building.

Those wishing to attend the Fishing Rodeo this Saturday must sign with Mrs. Janice Tyler, playground director, or Miss Maureen Cavanaugh, playlot leader, before Thursday. A bus will leave the playground for the rodeo Saturday at 9:15 a. m.

In the recent doll show, Sharon Gollner had the oldest (80 years) and also the most dolls (30) while other winners were Leslie Weismiller, most original; Dale Kushner, newest; Patricia Atkins, largest, and Richard Weismiller, smallest.

A track and field meet was also staged last week with the boys divided into three divisions. Dick Hobrock won the 100-foot and 150-foot dash in the Pee Wee Division while Bill Zapf was first in the standing broad jump (five feet, five inches, and running broad jump (eight feet, three inches).

Bill Humbertson won the 100 and 150-foot dash in the Junior Division and also the running broad jump with a leap of 14 feet. Steve Klavuhn won the standing broad jump (seven feet, nine inches) while Don Helker took the discus (85 feet) and shot put (33 feet, three inches).

Bob Roeder was the only participant in the Senior Division and tossed the shot put 33 feet, five inches.

Martz Plays Major Roles At Festival

Edward Martz, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Martz, 871 Fayette Street, is playing three major roles in the Ninth Annual San Diego (Calif.) National Shakespeare Festival which opened last Friday in Balboa Park there.

Martz is portraying Benedict in "Much Ado About Nothing," Caesar in "Anthony and Cleopatra," and MacDuff in "Macbeth." The three plays will be seen nightly in rotation through August 31.

Martz attended Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pittsburgh where he played Belarius in "Cymbeline." Last year at the William Penn Playhouse in Pittsburgh he appeared as Gil in "Janus," Starbuck in "Rainmaker," and Joe McCall in "The Tender Trap."

He also appeared in a scene from "The Cherry Orchard" on the Wide World Television.

Martz has also starred in "Tea House Of The August Moon," "My Three Angels," "Ring Around The Moon," "Out Of The Frying Pan" and "George Washington Slept Here."

Two years ago Martz starred in the Frostburg Community Theatre's "The King Of Hearts."

Following the closing of the West Coast festival, Martz plans to accept a staff-actor position with the Pittsburgh Playhouse.

Celanese Stops Carpet Licenses

NEW YORK — The Celanese Corporation of America has suspended for the time being the issuance of Celanese trademark licenses.

The trademark identifies twist-set acetate of Celanese used in carpets, primarily in blends with nylon fibers.

Licenses have been granted to Bigelow-Sanford Carpet Co., Croft Carpet Mills, Doerr Carpets, Katherine Rug Mills, G. H. Rauschenberg and Suwanee Carpets, on the basis of agreement to meet certain carpet construction quality standards.

Several other licensed carpet producers are in the process of developing eligible fabrics, most of which are unlikely to be ready for market introduction before next season, according to Murray D. Ewing, new products merchandising director.

He said the decision to halt licensing momentarily had been necessitated by a temporary shortage of the staple as a result of demand.

Hagerstown Girls Apprehended Here

Two Hagerstown girls were arrested last night by City Police.

Officer James Bolyard arrested the two 17-year-old girls in a car with several boys.

They are being held pending action of Hagerstown authorities.

DAMAGED COFFER DAM—The force of the water which swirled down Wills Creek over the weekend as a result of heavy rains is graphically illustrated by the picture above. The coffer dam which was erected in the stream to protect workmen and also allow for the driving of huge steel beams for the new railway bridge was bent out of shape by the onrushing water. The new Western Maryland Railway bridge will require a pier in the center of the creek and the steel piling is being driven to provide a firm base for the concrete pier. The George F. Hazelwood Company is doing the work in this section of the creek.

Boys Injured When Hit By Car At Coney

The two Lonaconing boys struck by a car last night are reported in "fair" condition today at Miners Hospital in Frostburg.

Admitted to the hospital following the mishap on State Route 36 were William Green and Stephen Whittington, both seven years of age.

State Police said the Green boy sustained abrasions and contusions on the right side of his face and second degree burns on his back.

The Whittington boy sustained abrasions of his arm and back. Driver of the car was Margaret Irene Stakem, 19, also of Lonaconing.

Police said the driver was traveling south on State Route 36 in Lonaconing when she apparently lost control of the car which ran up over the curb onto the sidewalk and struck the two youngsters who were playing.

The car then traveled about four feet and rammed into the home of Hugh Fazenbaker, Trooper R. C. Deshong, who investigated, said no charges have been filed pending the outcome of the children's injuries.

The accident occurred about 5:15 p. m.

Ski Club Picnic Slated On Sunday

The annual summer picnic of the Western Maryland Ski Club will be Sunday, starting at 10 a. m., at the summer home of Howard Naylor. Naylor's residence is located about 800 yards east of the Glendale Bridge on the north side of Deep Creek Lake. Members may bring guests.

Directional markers will be placed for those attending from Cumberland, the signs beginning at Grantsville on Route 495, south, in the center of town and then at spots along the route to the picnic area.

Motorboats will be available for sight-seeing and water skiing with a nominal fee being charged for food and motorboat fuel.

Report Hancock Girl Missing

A Hancock girl, Nellie Marie Mellott, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mellott, has been reported missing from her home.

The girl, five feet tall and weighing 130 pounds, has not been seen since July 20. She has dark brown hair and brown eyes and fair complexion. When last seen she was wearing black shorts and white blouse, and may be in the company of another girl.

Parents of the girl told the sheriff's office in Hagerstown that she is mature for her age and could easily pass for 21 years of age.

Anyone having any information concerning the girl is requested to call the sheriff's office, Hagerstown, REgent 9-0011.

Garrett Road Arrests Heavy

State Police have been busy in recent weeks in the Garrett County area checking on speeders, many of them vacationers in the Deep Creek section.

Twenty-four persons arrested were arraigned before magistrate Boyd Sanders Sr. last week.

Among the violators was Gerald G. Umbel, Friendsville, who was fined $311.45 for overloading a second axle by 8,500 pounds.

Eugene M. Fike, Deer Park, appealed a six month sentence to the House of Correction on a charge of operating a car on a revoked license, his fourth offense. Fike was released under $500 bond pending trial in Circuit Court.

Charles W. Morgan, Columbus, Ohio, was fined $101.45 for exceeding 70 miles an hour.

An unusual violation was that of Gale E. Lauderman, Marietta, Ohio, who was charged with a road fuel tax violation. This is a regulation whereby trucks traveling in the state must buy and pay fuel taxes.

County Nears Surplus Food Final Action

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners conferred today with Grant A. Wiebel, who will be the supervisor for the surplus food distribution program, on the procedures which will be followed.

The commissioners are having the necessary certification forms and other papers printed and expect to adopt the surplus food program at Friday's meeting. It will then be possible to notify the State Department of Procurement and Budget of the amount of food needed for distribution in the county.

It is hoped to get the distribution underway by the end of the month. This will be possible if the surplus food is ordered by August 15.

The board also decided today to have the food shipped here to the Bachman Transfer Company's warehouse on the B&O Railroad siding near the Bolt and Forge Shops off Williams Street. Only the non-perishable foods will be kept at the warehouse. The butter and cheese will be stored at the Cumberland Ice and Cold Storage plant on Frederick Street.

Donable foods available from the U. S. Department of Agriculture include butter, cheese, cornmeal, dried milk, flour and rice. The food will be distributed in the various communities once each month and a schedule will be announced later giving the time and place of distribution.

California Couple Injured In Mishap
A California couple sustained minor injuries this morning when their automobile crashed on Green Ridge Mountain.

Maryland State Police, who investigated, said Carlos Villafuerte, 41, and his wife, were treated at Memorial Hospital for minor injuries.

Coal Strip Mine Output Up In State

Operation Total Shows Decline From Figures For 1955

While there are fewer strip mines in Maryland coal fields than they were in 1955, their tonnage has increased in the past two years.

The report of the Maryland Bureau of Mines for the 1957 shows there were only 30 open pits in operation. In 1955 there were 34.

The strip mine tonnage has nearly doubled, however, from 228,569 tons in 1955 to 432,042 tons in 1957.

Down In Allegany
Garrett County's strip mine production has nearly tripled, while having the same number of operations for the past three years—14 of them.

The tonnage "has gone from 123,998 in 1955 to 359,729 last year. Allegany County, while showing a decrease of four workings, has dropped from 104,751 tons in 1955 to 72,313 tons last year.

It was the increase in Garrett County's strip mine tonnage that brought up the state's total to a three-year high of 759,884 tons from the 1955 production figure of 522,908.

Each of the strip mine operators under the strip mining law that went into effect on June 1, 1955 must file an application as provided by the Bureau of Mines.

Each application must cover four acres of coal to be stripped and accompanied by a bond representing $100 per acre.

The operator must also pay a filing fee of $200. A permit, giving the location of the acreage to be stripped, is then issued by the Bureau of Mines.

Must File Reports
To comply with the law, the operator must file an operations report within 30 days of removing the first overburden. Within six months after it is finished or abandoned the operator must file a completion report with the bureau.

When the operator has complied with all the backfill regulations the director of the bureau of mines then issues a release of the bond.

During 1957, the T. J. Cramblett operation on the west side of Meadow Mountain was completed, but the operator had to forfeit bond.

During 1956, according to the bureau report, Cramblett's No. 3 operation produced 17,108 tons. Strip mine outfits and their tonnage for 1957 follow:

Allegany County
Central Sand and Gravel Company, 7,807 tons; Allegany Engineering Company, 9,760; BMW Coal Company, 1,253; Cross Fuel Company, 5,189; Phoenix Big Vein Coal Company, 10,363; Savage Coal Company, 12,000; Georges Creek Coal and Land Company, 12,000; Charles T. Clise, 1,518; Goodwill Fuel Company, 571; Queen Georges Creek Coal Company, 7,600; Mack Coal Company, 532; Cheslie A. Liller, 7,844; and J. and M. Coal Company, 775.

Garrett County
Old Hampshire Coal Company, 7,930 tons; Schell Mining Company, Inc., 153,614; Morgan Contracting Company, 5,122; Roma-dale Coal Corporation, 14,491; Highland Construction Company, 1,460; Morgan Coal Company, 39,760; Moscow-Georges Creek Coal Company, 863; J. R. Thrasher Contracting and Stripping Company, 38,210; D&B Coal Company, 27,219; White Crest Coal Company, 15,731.

Anna Glorius
FROSTBURG—Anna M. Glorius, 30, of 49 Linden Street, died this morning at her home following a lingering illness.

She was a daughter of William E. and Josephine (Dailey) Glorius of 49 Linden Street.

David Lauder
LONAICONING—David Lauder, 59, of here, died last night at his home.

Bobby Fletcher, whose speed enabled him to finish as the city's top schoolboy football scorer while playing halfback for Allegany High in 1955, covered himself with glory recently while pitching softball for the Marines.

Fletcher, who enlisted in January, 1956 for a three-year stint, hurriedly pitched the division championship at Camp Lejeune (N. C.) with an iron-man performance.

Bobby pitched every inning (36 in all) in the double-elimination tournament, culminating his brilliant effort with a 2-0, one-hit, shutout in the championship game against Service Battalion.

Headquarters went into the final day of play with a 2-0 record, but Service Battalion extended the playoff by edging Fletcher in a 5-4, eight-inning thriller. Eddie Simpson prevented Fletcher from going through the tourney unscathed by tagging him for a home run in the eighth, his second of the game.

Fletcher, however, came back with a vengeance the same afternoon to spin his championship masterpiece. The only hit yielded by him was a second-inning single off the bat of Andy Anderson, his mound opponent.

Fletcher and his team are representing their division in the Quad-Command tournament which started yesterday.

Bobby, who pitched a no-hitter during the regular season, is a product of Cumberland's Little League. He quit high school in his senior year to enter the service.

The 1955 grid season found him romping to nine touchdowns for Allegany and accounting for 13 conversions for a total of 67 points. Fletcher, who was an All-City choice and honorable mention on the All-State, finished five points ahead of Fort Hill's Jim Crawford in the city scoring race.

'Blistering' Pace

Michigan softball players representing the Muskegon Moose and Muskegon Heights Eagles are resting blistered feet today—and for a good reason.

They played a 145-inning softball game Saturday, with the Moose finally winning, 78-21, over a span of 12 hours and 20 minutes.

A tie at the end of nine innings wasn't responsible. Neither was a series of ties thereafter. They just set out to see if they could better the 140 innings they went in 1948.

Percy Buttermore, who played in the 1948 marathon, pitched the first 100 innings for the winning Moose. Paul Gabris left after going "only" 40 innings for the Eagles.

With many from both sides in stocking-feet, the teams agreed to quit at the end of 145 innings.

The marathon was waged for the benefit of a muscular dystrophy fund.

Sports Keg Residue

Several Cumberland racing fans took in the program at Wheeling Downs last night and were very much impressed by the nocturnal show. The 600,000 watts candlelight they say gives an excellent view of the horses any place on the track. . . . Incidentally the first week of night racing at the West Virginia plant found the average daily attendance 4,605, as against 3,610 for a corresponding period last summer. . . . Betting is also up, averaging $199,300 over the lamps as compared to $173,500 in 1957. . . .

Cedric Miller, one of Allegany High School's most avid sports followers, has been receiving daily "needle injections" from his fellow workers at the Western Maryland Railway. . . . Seems as though Cedric and his family will be moving shortly—and right smack into Fort Hill territory. . . . That mean's Miller's children will be attending Fort Hill, and if his son plays football, Cedric will find it necessary to become a Sentinel rooster. . . . Since catching fire on their last home stand, the Pittsburgh Pirates have picked up many additional fans, all of whom are eager to see them play. . . . Their next televised game will be Saturday, Aug. 16, at Cincinnati. . . . Other Pirate telecasts are: Aug. 17, Cincinnati; Aug. 22, Chicago; Aug. 24, St. Louis; Aug. 26, St. Louis; Aug. 30, Milwaukee; Aug. 31, Milwaukee; Sept. 3, Cincinnati; Sept. 20, Philadelphia, and Sept. 21, Philadelphia.

Corns, Midland Tie

Corriganville and Midland battled to a 4-4 tie in the sixth inning yesterday before darkness set in to halt their Georges Creek Little League contest. Corriganville will play Barton in a loop clash today at 6:30 p. m. at the Barton diamond.

Pirates Put Brakes On Milwaukee Runaway

Bucs Snare 17 Wins In 26 Contests Since July 4

By FRED DOWN
United Press International

Those upstart Pittsburgh Pirates have "braked" the Milwaukee Braves' threatened runaway—and there may yet be a pennant race in the National League.

The Pirates, battling to finish in the first division for the first time since 1948, snapped the Braves' six-game winning streak, 4-3, Monday night on a ninth-inning homer by Roberto Clemente. The San Francisco Giants, who beat the Chicago Cubs, 6-4, in an afternoon game, thus moved within four games of the Braves and the Pirates moved up to within six of the world champions.

And so, all the talk of a Milwaukee runaway that started after the Braves' four-game weekend sweep of the Giants, is quieted. The Braves may go on to win another pennant but their opposition hasn't given up yet.

Best In the Majors

The Pirates, now three games ahead of the fourth-place Cubs, have won four straight games and 17 of 26 (a .654 pace) since July 4 when they were in seventh place. For the last week or so, they've been getting the best pitching in either league—they had a string of 34 consecutive scoreless innings when the Braves scored in the third inning Monday night—and they're getting long-ball punch from such relatively under-publicized players as Clemente, Bob Skinner and Dick Stuart.

Skinner drove in the Pirates' first three runs Monday night with a two-run single in the first inning and an infield out in the fifth. That produced a 3-3 tie that stood until Clemente's ninth-inning homer gave rookie Curt Raydon his fifth win and Juan Pizarro his first loss since returning from Wichita.

Mary Finally Homers

Raydon, who yielded to a pinch-hitter in the ninth, gave up eight hits and struck out four batters. Elroy Facke, the Pirates' 155-pound relief workhorse, pitched a perfect ninth.

Willie Mays showed signs of going off on another "tear" when he hit a homer, double, and single and stole a base to spark the Giants' eight-hit attack. The homer was Willie's 17th and first since July 2. He doubled in the fifth, stole third and scored on Bob Schmidt's single to break a 4-1 tie.

Ex-Minnesota football star Paul Giel received credit for his third win although 41-year-old Merv Grissom came in to stop a Chicago threat in the ninth.

Yanks Widen Lead

Rookie Gene Green hit his eighth homer of the year in the sixth inning to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers and the New York Yankees increased their American League lead to 16 games with a 9-4 win over the Baltimore Orioles in the only other major league activity.

Larry Jackson, one of the Cardinals' "hot" and "cold" pitchers, pitched a five-hitter and struck out 12 as the Redbirds ended their seven-game losing streak.

Ryne Duren, making his first appearance since he was hit by one of Paul Foytack's pitches 11 days ago, no-hit the Orioles for the last three innings to preserve Don Larsen's eighth victory. Homers by Bill Skowron and Mickey Mantle sparked the Yankees' 12-hit attack.

Trio Tilts Set In Chair Loop

It will be the first division clubs against the lower division teams today in the Rocking Chair League as three of the top four squads battle it out with the bottom trio.

Front-running Veterans of Foreign Wars (13-4) take the Post diamond for a contest with sixth-place Ritter's AC (5-12), runner-up Elks (13-6) clash with the Celanese tossers, in last place, Pittsburgh Plate (10-7) squad will go against fifth-place Moose, 7-10, on Stichter Field.

Knights of Columbus, in third with 12-7, is idle. All games are scheduled to start at 6:15 p. m.

County Loop Bills Trio Tiffs Today

County League Softball teams will whip back into action today after a break for the circuit's all-star classic with three games scheduled.

Pacesetter Corriganville (19-5) will lay its three-game lead on the line in a tussle with Kennell's Mill (14-10) on the latter's field, runnerup Stringtown (16-8) faces cellar-dwelling Homewood Tavern (3-21) at Homewood and the Maple Inn Old Germans (13-11) will take on the Hyndman Planers (7-17) at Hyndman.

All games are scheduled to get under way at 6:15 p. m.

STANDOUT — Joey Jay, Milwaukee pitcher, is the National League's player of the month. Jay won five games and lost two for the Braves during July, compiling a 1.42 earned-run average while striking out 46.

A mound duel between Mike Miller of the Lions Club and Wellington Donahue of Rotary Club was broken up yesterday by a bases-loaded single off the bat of Bucky Whiteman to give the Lions a 4-3 victory in a Hot Stove League contest at Penn Avenue Field.

By winning the Lions moved to within 1 1/2 games of front-running Kiwanis which is scheduled to tangle today with the Jaycees (7-5) in an 8 p. m. tilt under the Penn Avenue lights. Another fray this evening has the Elks (7-7) and B'nai B'rith (2-12) clashing at Fort Hill in a 6 p. m. tussle.

Miller won the game in relief, relieving Jim Stratton in the third with a run in and one out and the bases jammed. He retired the side by whiffing Joe Ranker and Donahue. The win was his fifth against two losses.

Donahue's single in the seventh was the only hit credited to the Rotarians. Whiteman obtained two hits and tallied two of the Lions' four runs. The winners executed a pair of double plays. Jimmy Seeders held the Cumberland Optimists to two hits and whiffed 12 as the Bedford Road Optimists whiffed their city counterpart, 5-2.

Mike Long slammed a homer in the second and singled in the fourth, later scoring to pace the Bedford Road club.

Seeders posted his sixth win against three losses while Jim Stewart suffered his second setback against five victories. Stewart whiffed 12 and yielded five hits.

Phil Ketterman chipped in with two singles, and Harold Hardinger rapped a double and single for Bedford Road.

Lonsconing, fourth-place team in the Twilight Baseball League, exploded for 12 runs yesterday to tumble Midland from first place while Barton and Westernport recorded victories to deadlock for the top spot.

Lonsconing captured the decision behind the six-hit pitching of John Wilson.

The winners met the offerings of Carl Donald and Pat Corrigan for their hits, including a homer and two singles by Everett Spiker. "Ike" Love, "Cokie" Robertson and Jim Spiker had two hits each. Spiker spanked a triple and Robertson smashed a two-bagger.

Young Beats Emerick

George Miller accounted for three of the winners' six safeties, including a double.

Ronald (Butch) Young gained the nod over Carl Emerick in Barton's 2-1 win against Zihlman, while Westernport was turning back Finzel, 7-3.

Barton's win margin was provided by Johnny Johnson who homered with one aboard in the fourth inning. Zihlman tallied on singles by Harold Buskirk, Bob Deffenbaugh and Rusty (Rabbit) Keister in the third heat.

Smith Wins Seventh

Westernport and Finzel each obtained five hits in their contest which saw Ollie Smith notching the win over Ronnie Rice. It was Smith's seventh triumph against one loss. Dave Marple replaced Smith in the sixth and finished for Westernport. The loss was the eighth for Rice who has won three.

Joe Niland larruped a lead-off homer in the first and had a single for the winners. Rice connected for a pair of triples to pace Finzel.

Harshman Opposes Turley In Yank-Bird Tiff Tonight

BALTIMORE—(AP)—The New York Yankees may lose those weekend doubleheaders, but on weekdays—watch out. One thing the Baltimore Orioles found out in a hurry last night: You can't expect to cure a prolonged losing streak by playing the Yanks. The Stengel boys won 9-4 and extended the Orioles' losing string to eight.

The American League leaders gave away three runs in the first four frames by Baltimore starter Arnold Portocarrero.

But Yankee power broke through in the fifth and from then on every New York starter made at least one hit. Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron each knocked in two runs.

Baltimore will send Jack Harshman (8-9) to the mound tonight in another attempt to break into the winning column. Bob Turley (16-4) will start for the Yanks.

The New Yorkers began moving last night when Elston Howard opened the fifth with a single and came home on Skowron's 11th homer. Mantle ended the scoring in the ninth with his 29th round-tripper.

The Yanks tied the score 3-3 in the sixth and went ahead for keeps in the seventh with a double by Tony Kubek and four singles. It was Portocarrero's seventh loss against 10 wins. Don Larsen hurled six innings for his eighth victory. He has lost five.

The Orioles made three of their four hits and three runs with two out in the first. The runs came in on Bob Nieman's walk, doubles by Dick Williams and Al Pilarcik and a single by Joe Ginsberg.

Gil McDougald's bases-loaded error in the ninth gave the Orioles a final run.

Ginsberg subbed for catcher Gus Triandos who has been sidelined with a sprained back. Doctors are leaving it up to big Gus to decide when he should return to action. He is expected to be out from two to four days.

Triandos, with 20 homers to his credit, developed a kink in his back during the first game of a doubleheader at Detroit Sunday and had to retire from action in the sixth inning of the nightcap.

Bonus player Dave Nicholson worked out with the Orioles before last night's contest. The St. Louis youngster, for whom Baltimore paid more than $100,000, was in Baltimore to have his ailing back examined.

Orioles' Physician Dr. Erwin Mayer said he could find nothing wrong with the back but scheduled another examination for tomorrow with two orthopedic specialists.

Nicholson is playing with Dublin of the Class D Georgia-Florida League.

Split Season Seen As Vital For Majors

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Threats of pennant runaways in both major leagues today inspired the suggestion the majors adopt split seasons to maintain interest in late-summer play.

With the New York Yankees 15½ games ahead of their nearest rival in the American circuit, and the Milwaukee Braves striving to emulate them in the National League by a five-game lead, Fred Corcoran declared positively, "the split season is a must."

Corcoran said it seemed incredible to him—as a promotion expert—that major league club owners were apparently taking out no insurance against similar crises in future campaigns.

"And that insurance is the split-season," he asserted.

Cites Lack Of Interest

Corcoran, widely known as a specialist in golf exploitation, is indirectly concerned with the welfare of our national pastime because he's business manager for stars like Ted Williams and Stan Musial.

And he's directly concerned, "because I've been a red hot baseball fan since my sandlot days in Boston."

He explained: "Everyone knows major league baseball is our great spectator sport. Under the current runaway condition in the American League, there's practically no fan-interest in the race. And the further we go into August and September, the deader that race will be."

"During the first half of the season there was great interest in the National League race. But now, that interest will wane as the Braves take a commanding lead and threaten to assure another Braves-Yankees World Series."

Suggests Split Schedule

To certify more life for future major league campaigns, he suggested the 154-game season for each club to split into a 77-game first half and a 77-game second half. And in each league the winner of the first half-season would play the winner of the second half for the right to represent its circuit in the World Series.

"This year, the season's first half for the Yankees would have ended on July 11," he continued.

"They would have won the first half with an 11-game lead. But then they would have been forced to start the second half nose-to-nose with all the other clubs, and given any club a chance to beat them if any club could get hot."

"That fresh start would have rekindled interest in the race and provided interest during August and September."

Frostburg won the pennant yesterday in the Bi-State Pony League by copping the final game of the regular season with an 11-4 victory over Cresaptown's Lions, 11-4, at Cresaptown.

The Mountain City team won the game in the third inning when it exploded for eight runs. Two hits, including a three-run triple by Allan Eisler, six bases on balls, and two errors highlighted the rally.

The victory gave Frostburg a 16-4 record and its first pennant in the league's five-year history. Previous pennant winners were Mt. Savage, 1954; Barton, 1955; Cresaptown, 1956; and Ellerslie last season.

Eisler sparked the winners with a triple, two doubles and a single while Dave Kerch had a pair of one-base raps. Jim McKenzie, Gary Clingerman and Johnny Hinds shared six of the losers' ten hits.

Mel Beeman worked the distance for Frostburg and notched his third victory. Billy Lovett, a nine-game winner for Cresaptown, was dealt his second loss.

Playoffs in the circuit will get under way Friday with LaVale at Frostburg and Lonaconing at Cresaptown. Both contests are set for 6 p. m. The winner in the best-of-three series will go to the finals. Mt. Savage and Ellerslie copped the 1956 and '57 playoff crowns.

Venturi Wins Chicago Open

CHICAGO (UPI)—Ken Venturi may be golf's new Hogan, Snead or Nelson.

The 27-year-old San Francisco star stood off the pressure of veterans Jack Burke Jr. and Julius Boros Monday to win his biggest purse in 20 months as a pro, $9,000, with an eight-under-par 272 for the 72-hole Glen Eagles Open. It was his sixth tournament victory.

The payoff gave him total earnings of $68,000 official and unofficial, for his brief time on the tourney tour, far ahead of the prize money paid to any other golfer since the PGA began arranging summer and winter tours to give the nation's fans a chance to see the best shot makers in action.

QUITE AN ARM FULL—Worth $9,000 as top money, trophy symbolic of victory in Chicago Open golf tournament is held by Ken Venturi. He posted 272 to win by stroke over Jack Burke and Julius Boros.

Gurley's became undisputed owner of first place in the High School Baseball League yesterday by winning its second straight game without a loss in second-half play, turning back the Forty Niners, 6-5, at Fort Hill Field.

Gary Shook gained his second victory of the half, winning in relief. He gave up only one hit in a four-inning stint.

Singles by John Mills and Jim Hammond were the only bingles obtained by the Forty Niners batsmen off a trio of Gurley hurlers.

Jimmy Leith collected two of the winners' seven hits.

Hammond, playing shortstop, and Billy Colbert, Gurley's center fielder, were the fielding stars.

Roger Menges twirled a three-hitter and whiffed ten as first-half champion VFW routed the Toy Shop, 13-2. The defeat was the eighth in a row for the Toy-nien.

All of the VFW players garnered at least one hit as Jim Rice paced the attack with a double and single. Speir rapped out a triple for the losers.

Frostburg Eagles Win, Tie For Top

The Eagles moved into a first-place tie with the Lions in the Frostburg Little League yesterday by beating the Orioles, 4-2, behind the two-hit pitching of Greg Harper.

Both the Eagles and Lions show 3-1 records for the second-half race.

Harper gave up a double to Mike Kenny and a single to Billy Diehl while striking out nine.

Tommy Husselbaugh led the winners at the bat with three singles. Jim Meanyhan rapped out a double and single and John Allen and Dick Delany had a pair of singles each.

Wayne Miller, losing pitcher, whiffed nine.

West Virginia Bar Condemns School Group

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The suspension last spring of Big Creek High School by the State Secondary Schools Activities Commission has been condemned by the West Virginia Bar as "arrogant and despotic."

The commission's action was condemned by the Bar's Board of Governors during a meeting in Parkersburg last weekend, it was announced Monday.

The board based its censure of the commission on news stories to the effect that the commission suspended Big Creek for one year because the school sanctioned court action to challenge commission officials' ruling that prevented Big Creek from participating in last fall's state Class AA football championship game.

The board said the commission's action was "highly arbitrary and capricious" if based on the reasons reported, Bar Secretary Oshel C. Parsons said.

In a statement, the board said: "The courts of this state are open to all. Any person is entitled to a recourse of the courts for a determination of his rights." This right is guaranteed by the constitution of this state and the United States.

It added that it was "a deplorable situation if some voluntary organization is permitted to administer punishment for the exercise of such a right."

Yankees	6	6	.500

The stage is set for this afternoon's clash in the Dapper Division of the Dapper Dan Little League between the front-running Red Sox (8-3) and the runner-up Phillies (7-4) on the Penn Avenue diamond at 3:30.

The Phils could tie the Dapper chase with a win and spoil the Red Sox bid for their second win in as many days. The Sox defeated the Giants yesterday, 12-3.

Other contests today have Yankees and Pirates battling at Penn Avenue in the latter's bid to move into a fourth place tie, the Dodgers looking for win number 10 in the Dan Division when testing the Braves at Stitzer Field and the last-place Indians struggling with the Senators at East Side Field.

The Dodger-Brave contest is set for 3:30 p. m. while the other two are 6 p. m. engagements.

Davy Martin hurled three-hit ball and struck out seven in the Red Sox victory yesterday. He issued 10 free tickets. Dean was the loser, needing relief from Apple in the sixth when the winners exploded for seven runs. The losing hurling combo walked 11.

The Red Sox were paced by Leo Miller and pitcher Martin, both of whom had three hits and Bob Robertson, who had two hits in four trips. The losers' hits were all singles, obtained by Seeders, Joyce and Jackson.

Robertson turned in a sensational catch of a fly ball in right field in the second inning.

Yanks To Run Major League Before Throng Of 100,000

By Associated Press & UPI NATIONAL LEAGUE

BUDAPEST, Hungary (UPI)—A capacity crowd of 100,000 at the huge Hungarian Nap-Stadium was expected to watch America's touring track and field team clash today with Hungary in the opening events of a two-day track and field carnival.

The U. S. men were favored to beat the Hungarian men, just as they vanquished top Russian and Polish stars in recent meets in Moscow and Warsaw.

But Hungarian women could well prove too strong for the U.S. girls, who were outscored both by the Russians and Poles. And indications were that Hungarian officials might disregard U. S. desires and lump together points from both men's and women's events to get an overall total.

It was by using such a scoring system that Russia claimed an overall 172-170 victory over the United States in the Moscow meet despite U. S. objections.

The Hungarians were counting on at least one victory in men's events today because Istvan Rozavolgyi, co-holder of the world record of 1,500 meters, was to represent Hungary in that event.

However, Americans Ed Moran of James City, Pa., and Jim Grelle of Portland, Ore., have been steadily improving and might menace the Magyar star.

Local 26 Defeats Marines, Pair Of Rec Games Slated

Don McIntyre's (9-8) and Ridgeley American Legion (8-6) will be defending their first-division records in the Rec Softball League today in the only two games scheduled.

McIntyre's, in fourth place, will go against Marine Reserve (5-8) in a contest at Naval Reserve Field, while the third-place Legion tests National Guard (3-13) on the Rolling Mill diamond.

Both contests get under way at 6:15 p. m.

Local 26 increased its league lead to four games yesterday by defeating the Marines, 9-7, making its record 16-2.

"Pickles" Doolan, who was relieved by Don Decker in the fifth inning, became the first ten-game winner with the victory. He has lost once.

Eddie Golden, with a triple, double and single, Marry Widows, with three bingles, and Decker, with a homer, led the Rubber Workers' attack. Delton Barbe and Golden starred off.

Sgt. Luiz smacked a three-run homer and single and Pete Wagoner doubled and singled to lead the losers. Capt. Billy C. Menges starred in left field for the Marines.

Soil Supervisors Hear Reports On County Work

A report has been given by Martin Gordon, acting work unit conservationist with the Allegany County Soil Conservation District Board of Supervisors, on activities of the unit.

Two county farmers became district cooperators. Jonathan J. Eckhart, of LaVale, whose land is on Piney Mountain near Eckhart is interested in proper land use and a farm pond. He has 160 acres of land.

James Fry of Green Ridge, whose farm was formerly the Austin Mallow property on Green Ridge, is interested in a general soil and water conservation plan. He has 145 acres of ground.

Gordon said that 17 follow-up contacts were made with farmers in the county. Farm ponds were completed on the farms of Raymond Lepley, Mt. Savage and Richard Zeamer, of Westernport.

In Memoriam

In memory of Pvt. Eugene E. Dettin, who died in France, August 5, 1944.
When we step beyond life's Gateway
As our loved one now has done,
We shall find a land of beauty
With a new and better sun.
We shall greet old friends and new ones
In that land where all are blessed,
And we'll meet beyond life's Gateway
All the ones we loved the best.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a mother who would send out a letter like this? "Dear Mr. and Mrs. So and So: Three months is long enough for anybody to wait for an acknowledgment of a gift. My daughter, in spite of my continual urging, still has not gotten around to writing her 'thank you notes,' so please forgive her laziness and accept my thanks for remembering her." Sincerely yours,

MRS. BLANK

Just sign this "Curious."

SIDE GLANCES

"Our young man's fancy is getting fancier every year!"

By Galbraith

DEAR ABBY: For the past year I've tried to get proof that my husband is cheating on me with the girl who keeps his books down at the shop. Every time I walk in on them after hours this girl goes into the next room and pretends to be the girlfriend of the night man. They put on a good show and I can see them all laughing behind my back. My intuition is very strong on this, Abby, but I can't take him to court without proof. How can I catch him without hiring a private detective?

SUSPICIOUS

DEAR SUSPICIOUS: Your imagination (along with your intuition) could be working overtime. Quit playing cops and robbers and start playing "truth or consequences."

DEAR ABBY: My son is 18 years old and not because he is MY son but any mother would be proud to have her daughter be seen with him. Well, to make a long story short, he took a 16-year-old girl to the movies and when he brought her home they were sitting on her porch talking. He said he was giving her a good-night kiss—and all at once he got soaking wet. It seems her father was watching them and he turned the hose on him saying, "This should cool you off!" My son came home soaked to the skin. Should I have called the police?

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries)—Mercury is the leading benefic planet in today's planetary show. Sound thinking, planning, study, carefully written material are among the most favored activities.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus)—This can be a productive period for you in intelligent Taurus. Just be wisely conservative in spending, investing, in all money matters.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini)—This should be YOUR day. Mercury in splendid position: Writing, advertising, study, play-writing, conferences, re-hearing, reviewing books, the theatre, all artistic and clever ideas stimulated.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer)—Family, strictly personal interests, constitutional matters, health, and unusual activities. Be intelligently different. Don't lose heart at obstacles.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo)—Skill and professional workers—typists, clerks, secretaries, journalists, authors: look for planetary help in your career now. A fine day for mental achievement.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)—Same as for Gemini now. You should feel highly inspired. Try those new endeavors: capitalize on those bright, new ideas. This can be your day for advancement, unusual achievement.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra)—Don't jump to conclusions but study, analyze all situations. Stick to routine matters generally. The day does not especially favor new enterprises.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 23 (Scorpio)—Don't cross up yourself or others, don't be too anxious and DON'T give up on anything worthwhile. A better day than it may seem at first.

NOVEMBER 24 to DECEMBER 23 (Sagittarius)—You will have smoother sailing if you work with confidence and avoid contentious persons and situations. Work earnestly, but with a smile.

DECEMBER 24 to JANUARY 23 (Capricorn)—You are capable of scaling great heights, but must be careful now not to digress needlessly along the way. Be prudent.

JANUARY 24 to FEBRUARY 23 (Aquarius)—Be ready for some necessary changes now but until they are indicated, carry on with routine duties, family affairs, and in the surroundings you excel as athlete, jeweler, banker, explorer, art critic. Whatever your life's work, be contentedly happy at it and live sensibly; never go to extremes.

North's raise to two no-trump was a rock-bottom minimum and with only 16 points South probably should have passed, but he looked at his three ten spots and decided they constituted sufficient additional values to warrant a game bid.

Couple Gives Up Pet Skunk By Necessity

SALISBURY (AP)—Mrs. John Gordy had finished packing everything to join her husband in Oklahoma. She had even boxed Stinky, their pet skunk, for shipment west.

Then came word from her husband, stationed at Fort Sill, Okla. The gist of his note was that the landlord doesn't permit skunks on the premises, even the deodorized kind.

Mrs. Gordy had become attached to little Stinky, brought home a few weeks ago by her father, J. Walter Williams. Mrs. Williams' pet cat had nursed the skunk along.

State Police Cpl. William C. Dykes saved the day for Mrs. Gordy. He bought the skunk for $15, as a pet for his two young sons.

Eagles To Meet

CHICAGO (UPI) — Officials of the Fraternal Order of Eagles said today they expect the 1958 international convention which opens here Wednesday to draw 15,000 members from 1,600 lodges and 1,300 auxiliary chapters.

Among the top speakers scheduled to address the delegates from the U.S., Canada, Hawaii and the Philippines are former President Harry S. Truman, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell and U.S. Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore.).

Pa. Shortway Would Divert Pike Traffic

Secret Report On Plan Made Public; Route 40 Mentioned

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — A secret engineering report conceded that the Keystone Shortway would divert traffic from the Pennsylvania turnpike. But it says this can be offset by building a high-speed highway link from the turnpike into West Virginia and southern Ohio.

The Shortway, as now proposed, would run through central Pennsylvania from Sharon on the Ohio border to Stroudsburg on the New Jersey border.

It would be toll-free, unlike the turnpike, and would be a shorter route between the midwest and New York than the turnpike. As a result Philadelphians have opposed construction of the Shortway, saying it would hurt the port city's economy by diverting turnpike traffic.

The secret report, however, says the Sharon-Stroudsburg route is the best. It says:

"When completed, the Keystone shortway would intercept traffic now using the Pennsylvania turnpike. However, it also should be noted that the proposed development of U.S. 40 as an interstate highway—from Pennsylvania west through West Virginia and Ohio—would attract a large volume of new traffic to the turnpike at New Stanton to offset any traffic diverted to the Keystone Shortway."

... at the present rate of traffic increase, the turnpike will need traffic relief by the time (1972) the Keystone Shortway would be ready for service."

The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads already has on the drafting boards a plan to link the turnpike with Wheeling, W. Va., by making U.S. 40 an interstate highway through Washington, Pa.

Farmer Work Progresses In Maryland

Good Yields Seen Despite Losses In Some State Areas

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Maryland and Delaware farmers made excellent progress in catching up with harvests and other work last week despite unusually wet weather.

The Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service said, in its weekly report, that generally excellent crop yields are expected although the wet season has caused some losses in local areas.

The wheat harvest was only about 70 per cent completed over the two-state area during the week ending Aug. 2. About 80 per cent of the wheat harvest was completed in North Central Maryland. The hay harvest also was behind schedule.

Potatoes were moving in volume last week, both in the Dover, Del., area and in Worcester and Somerset counties, on Maryland's Eastern Shore.

Prospects also are excellent for lima beans and tomatoes. Tomatoes now being picked show considerable cracking and scalding because of the heavy rains.

The movement of watermelons and cantaloups continued to increase and the peach harvest was expected to pick up this week and the next.

About 75 per cent of corn in the two states was tasseling and about 60 per cent was showing silk. Some damage to corn was reported in Cecil County last week because of high winds and heavy rains.

The spring oats harvest was half completed and early soybeans showed excellent growth. About 20-25 per cent of the alfalfa crop had not been cut a second time, although progress was picking up last week.

Harvesting of Jerseyland and Early-Red-Fre apples was finished in the Hancock area of Western Maryland and picking of Red-haven and Summer Rambo apples was in progress.
